Got a Lock of His Hair.

About a dozen recruits for the army in the Philippines were standing in the depot talking to friends when Al Hanthorn, who calls trains, came by and announced that their train was ready to leave.

"I must go," said a tall soldier to a young woman to whom he was talking. He removed his hat as he hastily bowed to her. As he leaned forward she caught a lock of his hair and reaching down in the pocket of her dress pulled out a small pair of shears and cut off the lock of hair. Those standing by laughed and the young soldier, with tears in his eyes, turned and walked out on the depot platform to his train. The young woman carefully placed the lock of hair in a small valise she carried and then left the depot, going uptown.—Kansas City Star.

The Deadly Cigarette.

A Philadelphia physician who has made a long study of nicotine and its effects upon the human system is quoted as saying that the harmful effects of cigarette smoking comes from the practice of inhaling the smoke. "The poisonous gas formed while inhaling smoke prevents the air cells from carrying oxygen to the system," he said.
Continuing he said that he regarded as the most injurious method of smoking," by reason of the inability to keep it clean. The accumulation of nicotine would poison a weak system in a short time."

Mr. W. S. Whedon, Cashier of the First National Bank of Winterset, Iowa, in a recent letter gives some experience with a carpenter in his employ, that will be of value to other mechanics. He says: "I had a carpenter working for me who was obliged to stop work for several days on account of being troubled with diarrhoea. I mentioned to him that I had been similarly troubled and that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy had cured me. He bought a bottle of it from the druggist here and informed me that one dose cured him, and he is again at work." For sale by The Matthew's drug store.

Dr. Howard Talks of the Freshest of 1840.

DAHLONEGA, GA.,
May 30, 1901.

En. Nugget:—

The storm of rain, thunder, lightning and freshest of the 25, 26, 27 and 28th of May, 1901, called up vividly to my mind the great freshest of 1840. Well do I remember the scare of that occasion. The rain came up as I recollect from the southwest and continued to fall for several days.
One day I remember heavy rains fell incessantly that day. Fathers whole family remained in doors most of the time. The lightning flashed and the thunder pealed most startling, and many trees were stricken in the neighborhood. At the close of the rain all the water streams had risen to a height not seen before, so that low lands along the streams were overflowed from hill to hill. We lived one mile and a half from the Tennessee river in Macon county, N. C. The next day after the rain numbers of us went to the river to see the overflow, at the place called the Horse Shoe where the river bent around and made the promontory nearly half a mile long, the land upon this head was cleared and in cultivation. The river broke across all this land several feet deep, carrying with it large portions of fences and other movable bodies. A great number of people gathered at the public road that day to look upon that scene. This was only ten miles down the river from the Rabun gap. It is a notable place, as here was fought a battle with Indians by U. S. troops in the war of 1812. As I have understood the Indians were concealed along the trail under the brow of the hill, and kept our troops back. The river was on one side of them and a steep hill on the other, covered with a dense growth of bushes. Our horsemen swam the river on the promontory, and then again swam the river above, and firing upon the Indians, they retreated and were followed by our troops and overtaken a mile up the trail and had a fight with them. A number was killed and some captured.
A few of the Indians escaped to the mountains. This ended the Indian trouble in that section. All that country then was unoccupied by the whites. This being ten years before that country was occupied by the whites. I do not remember the name of the commander of the troops, I wish I could do so.

N. F. HOWARD.

The richer the country becomes the crazier people get about wealth.
Money is everything. Everybody is struggling to get rich. To gain that end health, happiness, and character are sacrificed, says the Savannah News. Men and women worship the golden calf. They talk of the great fortunes that are being made, or have been made,
and they bend all of their energies
in the direction of increasing their worldly possessions. They do not seem to realize that great happiness—that, as a rule, there is not as much happiness in the homes of the rich as in those of the poor. *
* * If there was as much regard felt for the virtues that go to make up good character as there is for money, what a different world this would be!

It is announced that Commander
Booth Tucker of the Salvation Army will probably select 5000 acres of land near Miami, Fla., as a site for a colony of 1000 persons from Northern cities.

Right Education.

Fewer studies in the public schools, greater thoroughness in the great staples of everyday knowledge—these are demands that are significant. Knowledge of the language one speaks, knowledge of the geography of the country one lives in and of the world, knowledge of the nation of which one is the citizen and of the other nations—these are indispensable.
The every day man who has mastered these has a practical foundation that will stand him in good stead a lifetime. Take those three in their wider and more exclusive significance and they include much. Thoroughness is the one great thing, and there is not an intelligent teacher in our schools who does not realize that today this thoroughness is sacrificed to a superficial knowledge of "forty-seven" things that are of practically no real use to the pupil after leaving school. Those who seek for broader education can find it afterward, but for the common scholar a few studies thoroughly mastered are the desideratum.—
San Antonio Express.

Chances in the South.

Chances in the South are equal,
if not better, for every avocation that promises a living. It's true there is not the gift of a quarter section of land, but men in every line of business are in demand, and hundreds of thousands of dollars are ready to be paid in return for common labor or technical skill.
Positions are more numerous than the men to fill them. Factories and mills are being started where nothing before but the bark of the squirrel and the crack of the woodman's rifle were heard. Truck gardens are yielding magnificent returns, the climate is salubrious,
the soil fertile, mountains rich in minerals beneath and forests of wealth above, and what more is needed as an inducement to the homeseeker?—McDowell Record.

There is a genuine sensation down in Wrightsville. Some of the most prominent men of the city have been tried for gambling. It was a shock to the people when they learned that public officers had been ordered arrested. It seems that these men had a clubroom in which they met often and played with the young men who were invariably the loser. Bailiff W. W. Anthony effected several of the arrests and went to Macon after one of them indicted. Nearly all of them plead guilty and were fined. The solicitor of the City Court of Wrightsville was one among those who entered a plea of guilty. It is not known that he will resign. Gambling is not regarded as affecting the moral turpitude of an official. In Wrightsville it is the consensus of opinion that the fines were not as heavy as they should have been.—Tomlin News.

It is pretty hard to convince the average advertisers that returns
do not come in immediately after the first insertion of an advertisement. The most successful advertisers have taken years to educate the people to believe their advertising. Their firm name has been kept constantly before the public, and each ad. has stuck constantly to the truth. Truthful advertising pays because people who know place confidence in advertising of that kind.—White's Sayings.

Mrs. Edwin Cress, Geneva, Mich. "When I commenced using Wine of Cardui I was hardly able to walk across the house. Two weeks after I walked half a mile and asked for a bottle because I had no more. After using the Wine during pregnancy the last baby was born healthy and hearty. I had no pain in labor only two hours, with but little pain, and I have no regret. For this great improvement in my health I thank God and Wine of Cardui."

Only two prisoners in jail now. Klondyke is hot beside Matthews' soda fountain.

Charlie Crisson and Charlie McGuire were fined one dollar each this week for riding bicycles on the side walks.

Our columns being crowded prevent us from making a personal notice of all the visitors in town this week.

Twenty-seven applicants stood the examination here for teachers license last Saturday, about half of them being students.

Hon. G. D. Bruce is speaking of returning to Oklahoma at an early day to look after some interests he has out there.

Since printing the tax receivers notice on the first side he informs us that he will visit Jones' Creek in the afternoon instead of the forenoon.

Some of the boys got so full of liquor Saturday night that one fellow shed his hat, which was picked up by Henry Edmouson Sunday morning.

Prof. O. Palmour, a former teacher of the N. G. A. College, is now principal of a school near Atlanta, was back among his many friends in Dahlonga this week.

We noticed among the visitors this week many of the faces of old students. We are always glad to meet them. The gates of Dahlonga will ever be open to them.

G. H. Adams, residing in Chestnut district informs us that a pine log near his house caught a fire on the first day of April and it was still burning last Saturday. We want to get hold of some of that kind of wood next winter.

The other day when a country lady carried a turkey in her arms to Hall's Villa to sell we were uneasy for a couple of young men for awhile for fear that they would die with laughter. We are unacquainted with their financial condition but if the truth was known we have no idea that their parents even own a chicken.

More liquor is drunk in the court house in Dahlonga on Sunday than at any dozen places in town. Here is the place where many a boy steps in and takes his first drink whose parents have no idea of such a thing, and here is the place where more of them comes to grief sooner or later by having to pay out fines or go to the chain gang, caused by too much strong drink. Boys, you had better quit it before it is too late.

On last Saturday afternoon Jonas Woody, of Union, was found dead near the foot of the Blue Ridge in this county. He, together with his son and a young man named Holloway came across the mountain to arrest Levi Crow who resides in this county, on a warrant sworn out by Grant Woody, of Union, a brother to the deceased, charging Crow with cheating and swindling. After arriving near Crow's house they ascertained that he was out fishing. So they separated, Woody going one way and his son and Holloway another, fixing a place to meet at, and all began the search for their man. About noon the two young men found Crow who they arrested and carried to the appointed place, where they waited and waited until they became uneasy and all three commenced hunting for Jones. In about three hours from the time they saw him last his son found him near a spring perfectly lifeless with his hands crossed just like he had been laid out. Coroner McGuire was notified who went up and held an inquest, finishing the investigation at about 12 o'clock that night and the jury decided that he came to his death by neuralgia of the heart. His wife was present and said that he had been troubled with this complaint for some time. Besides his wife he leaves several children.

All the carpenters here seem to be busy.

Tanglefoot Fly Paper at Matthews Drug Co.

The health of the city is good and the physicians are having a rest.

Keep your eye on Dahlonga and watch her grow with permanency.

The old school boys like to come back to Dahlonga and we are glad to see them return.

Subscribers wishing their address changed should give us the old as well as the new address.

Those desiring a pleasant place to spend the summer cannot find a better locality than Dahlonga.

Dahlonga presents a duller appearance now, since the students have all returned to their homes.

Judge Huff is having such work as was recommended by the last grand jury to be done at the jail carried out.

The city council gives druggists and no one else a right to sell tobacco, cigars and ice cold drinks on Sunday. Where is justice.

The other day when a lady and her husband met a couple of ladies both raised their hats. This might be called extreme politeness.

A drummer was in town this week from Athens trading with our merchants. This proves that Dahlonga is spreading out.

It seems that an officer and his wife in Dahlonga have been disturbing their neighbors by quarreling lately. The Marshal has not yet been notified.

Society badges seemed to be in demand this week. We understand that one country fellow paid 25 cents for one Monday, which he has been sleeping with ever since.

Go to Joe Rickets for your ice cold drinks. The city council prohibits him from selling on Sunday like the druggists but he will make you feel cool and pleasant every other day.

Down at the Hand and Standard mines they have made a rule to discharge all persons getting drunk last Sunday one of the foremen was drunk, who insulted ladies and made himself very conspicuous. All should be treated alike.

Senator W. H. Cobb, of Boyston, Ga., who graduated in Dahlonga in 1891, was among the visitors here this week. It is a pleasure for us to have a visit from any of the old school boys, more especially when they have raised themselves to such a distinction as to be able to frame laws for us.

J. B. Witt-left for Fort Wayne, Ind., last Friday afternoon to be present when his rich ore taken from the Findley chute near Dahlonga is put through the Hix process. It is claimed that it will save 30 per cent more gold than can be done by the fire process. This we don't believe however but Jims ore will show up well without putting it through any kind of a process.

This week Marshal Harrison caught several students shooting, which is a strict violation of law. Besides this they did it simply for aggravation. The officer made a case against them and Mayor Price only fined them fifty cents each, remitting the cost. This is the least fine ever placed on any body for anything. We have the highest regard for Col. Price but if we were in his place and couldn't help showing such partiality as this we would resign.

Representative Bruce and Senator McAfee have received less courtesies here this commencement than any other representatives of the people ever living. They have been shown no favors whatever. Not even offered a society badge when every little shirt tailed boy nearly has two. By their active efforts they secured even more than the president of the board of trustees asked for. Gentlemen, call it what you will but we say that it is a shame the way they have been treated.

An "ice cold fact"—Matthews fount.

Our hotels this week presented a lively appearance.

Capt. Hall is no longer a citizen of Dahlonga. He has moved his citizenship to Ingleside, Ga.

Sam Hamilton, col., was arrested up in White county last week and brought to Dahlonga, who soap afterwards made bond. He is charged with deceiving one of his female lovers.

Parties who are using dynamite in the Chestatee river up in Crumby's district to kill the fish, are doubtless unaware that it is a violation of law to do this, as it kills many too small to eat and eventually there will be no fish in this manner of fishing continues.

We return our sincere thanks to our friends for the very liberal patronage received during the month of May. Much of it came from the north in the way of subscriptions which is an evident fact that they are willing to risk the Nuggets reports about their interests here.

When you drink coffee why do you drink a coffee that is adulterated? If you will insist on having ribs, then you will get the genuine article that is pure and wholesome. Sold in bulk only by F. L. Reese, E. S. Copeland, J. E. McGee, E. E. Crisson, Paul Casleberry & Co., and T. J. Smith.

Received this week pretty lace caps 25c, brass bound rules two feet long 25c, pocket scissors one 25c, a pretty piece all over lace 25c, all white flannel 35c, 2 foot rules 7c, telescope valises 50 to 80c, a few straw hats left at our own price, a few of those nice 10 and 15c pictures left, fast black umbrellas 40c. to $1.38, shoes cheaper than you can get same quality in railroad towns, eight day alarm clocks $2.20.

B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

The banquet given by the Sig Ma Nu fraternity at Hall's Villa last Friday evening was a happy event. The interior was beautifully decorated and the Chinese magic lanterns hung out in front made the building look very attractive. Every one present was full of joy and happiness until the time came for them to separate, some of them knowing that they would never meet their school mates and friends again after departing from Dahlonga this time almost brought tears to their eyes. The other fraternity was highly entertained at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Thomson.

The Consolidated mining editor came out again last week with another right amusing article, and among other things appeals to the natives to show them any yonks that they may know of because he says his company bought their property to work and not to lease. It is very poor encouragement for a native to do this, for he would have to work at about a dollar a day to open a vein and then they would send to another state and get some fellow and pay him three or four dollars a day to take charge of the vein and lose it. Had this company employed native practical miners to look after their work instead of many inexperienced strangers employed it could have been done much cheaper and the company would have been in much better shape to day. He further says that the money spent by the Consolidated and Crown Mountain companies is putting money in poor men's pockets who were suffering before, many families being almost at the wolf's door.

A large amount of money has been spent by both companies beyond a doubt, but that being spent by the Crown Mountain Co. is doing the people of this country more good than that distributed by the other company because the former company engages home labor, superintendents and all, and the Consolidated allowed the natives from 50 to 90 cents a day to roll a wheelbarrow and perform other work as this under a Western or Tennessee boss receiving not less than $2.50 per day.

Delicious cream and sherbet daily at the Matthews fount.

Sunday's spree cost Lewis Shepard and S. W. Brown three dollars and cost each.

During commencement the Mayor's Court convened each day at 8 o'clock, a. m., so as to dispose of some of the evil doers.

Your neighbors said that he was getting tired of lending you the Nugget. Be a man and subscribe for it and quit the stingy gang.

The chapel Monday night wouldn't hold all the people who wish to witness the program of the young ladies society for the evening.

Joe Rickets applied to the city council last Monday to be allowed to sell soda water on Sundays, like the druggists, which was laid on the table.

The city council met last Monday and among other things levied a tax of 32 cents on the hundred dollars which amount is necessary to run the public school until this time next year. The other assessments will be made later on.

A number of persons at the college Monday night paid little boys 25 cents for their seats which caused these boys to be promptly on hand at an early hour ready to trade with some fellow in company with a young lady he loved.

Mr. Lucas, the Texas oil king, whose wife is now in Dahlonga at Hall's Villa writes a letter to the Atlanta Journal and says that he has been done a great injustice. The Journal got his name mixed up with another Lucas is the cause of the trouble.

President Murray and other officers of the Gainesville and Dahlonga Electric Railway line, went down to Gainesville last week to talk to her citizens about the matter, who, before they left were assured that they would render assistance in the enterprise.

Mr. Bruce Crawford, the cashier of the new bank, has already arrived, who states that they will be ready to open out about the 15th inst. It has been nearly a half century since Dahlonga has had a bank which shows that she is on now gaining ground.

Col. Farrow of Gainesville, spent last Monday in Dahlonga. He had been up at Porter Springs, which was opened to the public this week, some visitors having already arrived. No doubt a large crowd will be there before the season closes as the Queen of the Mountains is a favorable summer resort for low country visitors.

R. B. Duncan, of Dawson county, was arrested on the drill field during the sham battle Monday while under the influence of whiskey, not for what he did there particularly but what occurred at Dr. Jones drug store. He had some trouble with Will Worley who he threatened to kill afterwards. The marshal relieved him of a right nice little pistol such as Judge Estes values at $50.

The Methodists of Dahlonga have decided not to make any addition to their old church. It will cost something over thirteen hundred dollars to do so according to the plans, and they have decided to add on a few more hundred and build an up to date brick structure. The Presiding Elder told them this week that he would raise at least fifteen hundred dollars toward building a brick church. This is a wise move in them for the foundation of the present one is getting too old to add to.

A regular old time knock down fight occurred last Saturday night, participants being Walter Jenkins, Zeke Blackstock, Ed. Blackstock, Reubin Blackstock, Moses Blackstock, "Chock" Thomas, Manuel Garret, young Castleberry from White county, Julius Roberts and James Campbell. They first met at Hall's field on the Grice road and the row began between Manuel Garret and Moses Blackstock at the Mahew place. Rocks were freely used and Zeke Blackstock and Castleberry received the worst injuries.

Commencement N. G. A. College.

Saturday morning commencement began with "B" class prize declamations. The students who entered this contest were young in years and experience but having made thorough preparation they did not fail to entertain the large audiences present. Miss Mabel Grimes, of White Plains, won first prize. W. F. Thomas, of Daysville, won second prize.

Saturday night the exercises were no less interesting. This time ten young men of "A" class contested for two gold medals. In this contest it was hard to tell who were the winners but the committee awarded the first prize to J. F. Broach, of Canton, and second to J. H. Craig, of Anderson, S. C. At the same time the spelling medals were awarded. The first to J. H. Craig and second to E. B. Digby.

Sunday morning Dr. Walker Lewis preached the annual sermon. He especially commended right living rather than sects or technical points of doctrine. He said, "The apostles never condemned the belief of any one as heresy; they condemned wrong doing as heresy."

Sunday night Dr. Lewis preached a sermon even better than that of Sunday morning. He stated in substance that by looking on the life of Christ as an ideal men gradually rise to that which is higher and more noble and are not changed by a miracle in a moment. He said, "I despise to see a man emerge from a moral mud-hole and jump into the pulpit." At both services excellent music was furnished by a choir of selected singers.

Monday morning the members of Freshman class contested for two gold declamation medals. The speeches had been thoroughly prepared and were well delivered. The audience was highly pleased with the efforts of these young ladies and gentlemen.

After the election contest Dr. Walker Lewis delivered the annual address to the literary societies. The main thought of his address was, "Make the best of the opportunities that lie out before you." His sound logic often rose to elevated flights of oratory and his entire speech was flavored with many pleasing illustrations and amusing anecdotes.

Monday evening the sham battle took place. The artillery was stationed on an eminence south of the dormitory. For several minutes the battle raged without any determined result. Then the right wing of the army led by Capt. J. H. Byers attempted a flank movement but were driven back. Just at this moment Capt. W. T. Farrar arrived with reinforcements. While Capt. Farrar was leading a flank movement on the left, the center lines were rallied and sweeping up the hill like a storm soon captured the defensive party with all their cannon, guns and ammunition. A flag of truce being raised the terms of surrender were quickly agreed upon and the battle was ended.

Monday night the Corona Society gave an entertainment. This, of course, was very interesting. The chapel was packed from side to side with people and yet many went away who could not even enter the doors on account of the crowd.

Tuesday morning the Sophomore class contested for an oration prize. Most of the members of this class are experienced declaimers and it certainly was a pleasure to hear them speak.

At three o'clock in the afternoon target practice took place on the drill field. The military exercises were continued by a prize drill at four. Then all the cadets marched to the college and deposited their guns and equipments in the armory where they will await the ringing of the college bell next September.

Tuesday night the Champion Debate took place between the Decora Palaestra and Phi Mu Societies.

The former was represented by S. A. Harris and W. H. Chamblee; the latter by J. H. Byers and Carl Shultz. The subject was based on a story, the substance of which is as follows:

In ancient times a king's daughter loved a noble youth whose social station was far below her own. The king forbade the marriage of his daughter to the youth and placed him in the arena where he must open one of two closed doors. Behind one door stood a ferocious tiger; behind the other a lovely woman. If he opened the door of the tiger he was devoured instantly; if he opened the door of the lady he was to marry her in the presence of the king's daughter. The youth knew not which door the tiger was behind nor which door the lady was behind but the king's daughter did know. By a motion of the hand she told him to open one of the doors. The question is, which door did she tell him. The Decoras said the door of the lady; the Phi Mu said the door of the tiger. The judges gave their decision in favor of the tiger. The college halls resounded with the society yells and songs and the banners of both sides were floated high. Enthusiasm increased until it became madness; so much so that the trustees of the college had to suppress it.

Wednesday morning the members of Junior class contested for an elocution prize. These speakers composed their own orations which showed no trifling ability in the speakers.

Wednesday night was the closing scene of commencement. Each of the Seniors delivered his graduating speech and then J. W. West, the leader of the class, delivered the valedictory address.

G. W. McCleskey delivered the Decora Society diplomas to the following graduates: J. W. West, S. A. Harris, A. J. Wheelchel, L. P. Soseby and W. W. Scott. W. O. Flemming delivered the Phi Mu diplomas to the following: Carl Shultz, M. H. McGrath and W. T. Farrar.

The following is a list of graduates for the year:

A. B. Course—J. W. West, of Vera, S. A. Harris, of Murrayville, A. J. Wheelchel, of Dougherty.

B. I. Course—Carl Shultz, of Decora.

R. B. Course—L. P. Soseby, of Nelson, W. W. Scott, of Canton, M. H. McGrath, of Marble Hill and W. T. Farrar.

The medals were awarded as follows:

Rice Latin—Miss Marie Gailard, of Dahlonga.

Mathematics—J. B. Byers, of Price.

Oratory—H. B. Howard, of Cusseta.

Target—L. N. Davis, of Lumpkin county.

Junior Oration—P. J. Horton, of Winder.

Senior Oration—S. A. Harris, of Murrayville.

Then there was a generous hand shaking throughout the audience, tears glistened in many eyes, numerous benedictions pronounced on friends and the great assembly dispersed. Thus ended one of the most pleasant commencements in the history of the college.

Lieut. Fred Price will leave Maulla about the first of next month who will probably get permission long enough to come to Dahlonga and see the old folks at home.

Having views etc. to make elsewhere in the country I will close down business for some time after the 15th instant. Parties having work done by me will please bear this in mind.

Kindly thanking the public for past favors.

I am Respectfully,
P. DAVISON,

The next annual meeting of the United Confederate Veterans Association will convene in Dallas, Tex.

A negro at Bartow Florida, was bound to the stake, well oiled and then burned last week by a mob of several hundred persons. He had criminally assaulted Mrs. Roy Target who he waylaid while she was returning home from fishing. Then he cut her throat from ear to ear and hid her body in the swamp.

Preachers are very kind to us. One from the north last week came in and gave us $3.00 for three subscriptions to the Negro. One for himself and the other two for his friends. This divine is a good man and he likes to patronize a paper that give facts about any interests he has here now or may hereafter have in this section.

Under an act passed by the last session of congress the Virginia-Tennessee boundary line has been fixed in the middle of the main street of Bristol, Tenn. There is a car line in the street, and passengers on opposite sides of the car now ride in different states. The marriage of minors, forbidden in Virginia, may be performed on the out side of a car. A Virginia criminal on the south side of the street is safe from arrest should he so insist, until requisition papers can be obtained from Tennessee.—Ex.

THE CROWN MOUNTAIN GOLD Mining & Milling Co.

The Crown Mountain properties are situated in the very heart of the Georgia gold belt and is in the radiating center of all the leading gold veins of the Dahlonega district. They embrace what is believed to be the mother lode of the Appalachian Range.

The extensive and rich ore bodies in sight upon these properties assure long continues mining operations and the indisputable guarantee of the permanent and increasing value of the stock of "The Crown Mountain Co."

The projectors of this company were the first to revive the mining interest in this district in 1896. After three years of careful and exhaustive examination of all the mines of the district of reputation as gold producers, and they had the choice of all, they selected the Crown Mountain combination as the ideal gold mine of the district which would yield or produce the most gold with the least expense. This opinion is shown by all the mining engineers, mining experts, miners and citizens of any standing in the district who are familiar with the properties. As an evidence of this we here state that more of the citizens of the town of Dahlonega and vicinity have taken stock in this company than have in all the other companies combined that have organized in this district.

The company is to be managed by practical business men—who have given much of their time to mining and mining operations, and always with unvarying success.

The present directory is for the most part composed of men who have had much experience in the mining enterprises, and under its efficient and economical management, and by reason of a visible gold supply that is practically inexhaustible, an investment in the stock of this company is undoubtedly safe.

The capitalization of the company is not commensurate with the visible productiveness of the properties and is meagre compared with the capitalization of other justly celebrated mines in the district, but the management believe it will be able to make the stock worth above par.

We invite all prospective investors to make a personal inspection of the mines. We also invite them to examine all the other mines in the district—compare the quality and quantity of the ore and the facilities for economically treating the same. We have no fears of where the choice will fall.

The Indiana preacher who allowed his boy to fight another boy to settle a quarrel was delighted when his boy thrashed the other boy, but when the licked boy's father licked the preacher the good man appealed to a court. Alas for the inconsistency of human nature!

You may as well expect to run a steam engine without water as to find an active, energetic man with a torpid liver and you may know that his liver is torpid when he does not relish his food or feels dull and languid after eating, often has headache and sometimes dizziness. A few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablet will restore his liver to its normal functions, renew his vitality, improve his digestion and make him feel like a new man. Price, 25 cents. Samples free at The Matthew's drug store.

Machinery is King.

"The King is dead; long live the King." was the cry with which French courtiers proclaimed the death of one monarch and the accession of a new one. Once we said "Cotton is King," then "Corn is King," now "Machinery is King." Evidences of the truth of this statement abound in every department of human industry. According to reliable statisticians, one man and two boys can now do, with machinery, what required eleven hundred spinners to do a few years ago; cotton printing machines have displaced fifteen hundred to one retained; one machine, with one man, can manufacture as many horse-shoes in one day as it would take five hundred men to make by hand in the same time; one mail-machine takes the place of eleven hundred men, etc. An Austrian economist has demonstrated that the five million workers in Austria, all employed and provided with modern machinery and methods could supply all the population of that country (twenty-two million) with necessities and luxuries by working thirty-seven days in the year, or by working one hour and twenty minutes each day for three hundred days in the year, and yet it cannot be shown that machinery has lightened the work or increased the earning of the masses. Surely machinery is king, but shall it reign as the Bourbons did for the pleasure and profit of a privileged few, or for the good of all? How will the Twentieth Century answer?—Ex.

Mr. W. S. Wheldon, Cashier of the First National Bank of Waterloo, Iowa, in a recent letter gives some experience with a carpenter in his employ, that will be of value to other mechanics. He says: "I had a carpenter working for me who was obliged to stop work for several days on account of being troubled with diarrhoea. I mentioned to him that I had been similarly troubled, and that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy had cured me. He bought a bottle of it from the druggist here and informed me that one dose cured him, and he is again at work." For sale by The Matthew's drug store.

N. G. A. College Twenty-Five Years Ago.

We clip from the Dahlonega Advertiser a portion of the commencement exercises which occurred at that time to show what a change has taken place within a quarter of a century. Then a primary department was conducted at this institution, and many of the boys and girls attending college then have since moved away. Some are married, some dead and others are members of the board of trustees, helping to look after the college where they received their learning. While a number of the trustees have gone to their reward, President Lewis is dead. Prof. Gaillard who assisted then has been teaching ever since and has been elected recently to continue. All the other teachers with us then are not citizens here now. The 1st days exercises beginning July 2, 1876, is as follows which will be read with much interest by all those acquainted with the institution and people here then:
Monday morning—Smith's Grammar by Col. Lewis.
Frank Parker's spelling class.

Astonishing Information.

The Washington correspondents who are with President McKinley, and there are said to be some very able men, are very much surprised to find that the civil war is over. The president has been greeted with such lavish and cordial hospitality that they scarcely know what to make of it. A Washington special to the Memphis Commercial Appeal says:

The dispatches that have come back here from able correspondents who are on the presidential train and therefore in a position to know, bear evidence of the fact that the party in some mysterious way have found out that the civil war is over; that the men are no longer molding bullets to be fired at Yankee breasts and the women have quit making biscuits for the soldiers; the smoke of battle has almost cleared away; most of the confederate soldiers have taken off their uniforms; there is scarcely a dead body left on the battlefields; the men have gone to work again; the housewife is busy and the blue smoke curls up joyously from the kitchen chimney; everything is peaceful and the town goat tranquility eats his dinner on the square.

It is not known here exactly how the information leaked out. How such news escaped alert newspaper men for thirty odd years is marvelous. It is hinted that somebody, who possessed inside information, gave this item to a party of the presidential train, and this party, not regarding the information as confidential, referred to it in public print. Great gratification is expressed among public men here that the war is really over and it is safe to venture into Dixie without armor and a set of double turrets. It is also learned that the people of the south are gradually getting civilized and will in the course of time, be able to look at a dazzling presidential train without the aid of smoked glass.

It is amusing, not irritating, the view of the southern people from the northern standpoint even in this day of enlightenment. Right here in Washington, a place supposed to be to some extent inoculated with southern sentiment, there is a most exaggerated notion of the "simple and awe-stricken" people. A southern man here is expected to stand on the street corner with a mistletoe in one hand and a pistol in the other. He must wear long boots, such as are used by every regulated stage villain, and his hat must be broadbrimmed to partially cover his unkempt locks. He must practice shooting at electric lights, and be able to squirt tobacco juice over the Washington monument. He must cuss between syllables and laugh as loud as a well known barn fowl. This is the present idea, but it is all over now.

The civil war is over—no reports from the presidential train say.

Young Women
The entry into womanhood is a critical time for a girl. Little menstrual disorders started at that time soon grow into fatal complications. That female troubles are killing graveyards proves this. Wine of Cardui establishes a painless and natural menstrual flow. When once this important function is started right, a healthy life will usually follow. Many women, young and old, owe their lives to Wine of Cardui. There is nothing like it to give women freedom from pain and to fit young women for every duty of life. $1.00 bottles at druggists.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JUNE 14, 1901.

Entered at the Postoffice at Dahlonega, Ga., P. O. as Second Class Matter.

All who take up quarters at the soldiers home in Atlanta are supplied with a gray suit.

J. J. Chambers, living near Waycross, Ga., has 66 hives of bees and expects to sell 2,000 pounds of honey this year.

Miss Mabel L. Burt, of Bridge-ton, N. J., is now in jail at that place charged with stealing watches, diamonds money, etc. from students amounting to $3,000.

Real estate in Texas oil fields continue high. One tract of a quarter of an acre sold for $20,000 the other day. And another tract of half an acre for $40,000.

More than 75 persons stood the examination for teachers license in Cherokee county recently. Teachers surely get more pay in that county than they do in this.

A lady in Philadelphia has quit her husband and asks for a divorce because he easily chambers 47 drinks of whisky a day. How particular some women can be.

The publisher of the Georgia Baptist at Marietta, Ga., says "Ye Editor preached for the saints at Millfords last Sunday." But he didn't say whether the congregation was large or small.

The Georgia Teachers Association convenes at Warm Springs June 25th and continues for three days. The program is full of good things to the progressive teacher and the leaders in educational thought will be there. Several teachers from Dahlonega will likely attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Mindell, of Atlanta, were tried before Judge Broyde for starving their 14 year-old girl for the purpose of exhibiting it in a museum. It is nothing but skin and bones and weighs only four and a half pounds. They would stuff rags in its mouth and go off and leave the little thing tied in an unnatural position for hours. The old man was sent to the chain gang for thirty days.

Last Friday an effort was made to lynch a negro who was in jail at Carrollton, Ga., when the mob was fired at by the sheriff killing Geo. Bennett and wounding Thomas Smith and an unknown man. Thos. Word, father of the boy the negro had murdered, led the mob but strange to say was not hit. The negro was to have been executed that day but it was postponed which caused all the trouble. The Governor ordered out 70 troops who went after the negro and brought him to Atlanta for safe keeping.

Capt. Jno. P. Stegall, of Emerson has sold his mineral lands amounting to 400 acres, to a Pittsburg Company of capitalists for $15,000. This company has been represented by Mr. Britton, who has been busy prospecting and developing in this locality for some time. It is said the company intend erecting an iron furnace on the property. At any rate it is evident intention to develop the property which will mean a great deal for the industrial progress of our section.—Cartersville News.

Little legislative figuring has already been made by some of our politicians. They can't get off themselves but want to send some of their friends. A number desired the honor at the last election but they were afraid to try to pull for the shore. Primaries were a new thing in this county then and they didn't know which political boat to try to ride in for fear of being ducked. Bruce hopped into the democratic vessel, spread his sails and made a straight shoot from Lumpkin county to the capitol in Atlanta, high and dry and perfectly safe. Now that he has done this others want to take a ride. But Bruce's friends say if he wants to go again they are more than willing and will help him off.

Mining Notes

The water is frequently breaking off of the Hand ditch, causing a delay of work on both the Consolidated and Standard properties. The main trouble seems to be at the long tube.

A special meeting of the stockholders of the Dahlonega Consolidated Co., will be held at Toledo, O., to-day, at which time it will be determined what steps will be taken, we suppose, towards developing and operating their mines at Dahlonega.

Tom Ray with a force of hands still continues his development work on the Tahloneka property belonging to the Standard Company, having quite a number of excellent gold bearing veins already opened up, and if they would put this experienced miner in charge of the Singleton mill he would put it to running and show the true value of these veins and make the company money.

The Crown Mountain people are pushing things through with a rush so as to get the water on top of the Mountain and set the two Huntington mills to moving. If nothing unforeseen happens this will be done in a few more days to the delight of all our citizens as they feel confident that Crown Mountain is one of the best gold mines in Georgia and when operations are begun the outside world will soon be convinced of this fact.

Judging from the report made by last weeks Blue Ridge World our sister county Union across the Blue Ridge is doing some profitable mining. It says: "Mr. Chas. Kuhn, of Fort Branch, Ind., who owns and operates the Coose Gold Mine, in Union county, after spending two or three days with Capt. J. Y. Allen, of this place, left for his home with $22.50 pennyweights of gold nuggets nicely bottled from his mine at a cost to him of only $75. This illustrates what is found in the hills of North Georgia by the use of a little practical sense and energy. There are numbers of as good gold properties as the Coose, in this section of the state, if properly worked."

Capt. Ingersoll has a lot of hands at work opening up the Whimhill mines. He has opened several veins of high grade ore—has run a tunnel some 600 feet in to the hill and cross cut one that assays 40 dollars per ton and is still pushing the tunnel ahead to other veins including the famous Whimhill chute. This mine is one of the best in the belt. There has been taken out of this property some of the nicest ore on the belt. The Barlow, Thomas and Battle Branch belts run through it, besides one of the best water powers in the state. Capt. Ingersoll is a practical miner. He came to this country in 1867 and has followed mining constantly and he knows Georgians' mines well.

A public test was made by the Hix Process at Ft. Wayne Ind., last Friday and it was a great success there was a large crowd from Columbus, Ohio, and other places and all were pleased. Jim Witt has returned. Only the poorest of the Findley ore was run through and out of 950 pounds they took up $800.48, and there was only $1.76 in the tailings. Prof. Hix was taken suddenly sick and the balance of the Findley ore was left until he recovers. This manner of saving gold is a wonderful discovery, one that surprises every body. It is operated so cheaply that no doubt in the near future it will be introduced everywhere any mining is being done. About the first place being in Lumpkin county. Some of the Findley ore tested proved to be worth $2,000 per ton is enough to hurry them up.

Railroad.

A meeting of the citizens of Lumpkin county will be held on Saturday June 29th, 1901, at the court house in the city of Dahlonega, Ga. Every body interested in this great enterprise for Lumpkin county are cordially invited to attend.

There is no fodder to be had in Dahlonega now causing hay to have to be hauled from Gainesville. Merchant J. F. Moore is buying it in car load lots.

Since the damage to the old Wimpy grist mill the nearest one where grinding can be done is about three miles, making it very inconvenient for a person right hungry here for corn bread.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JUNE 14, 1901

See "$100 Reward" elsewhere.
An "ice cold fact"—Matthews found.

A little child of Robert Patton of this county, died Wednesday.

Both the city, state and county taxes this year are going to make it right interesting to those living in Dahlonega.

A little boys coat was found near Wimpys mill the other day, the owner can get it by calling at sheriff Davis.

Four persons baptised at Wimpys mill last Sunday afternoon attracting the attention of quite a large number of people.

Merchant Littlefield is making some repairs on his residence and store house formerly owned by the Consolidated Company.

Gen. Warner has been in the north for several days in the interest of the railroad and other matters of great importance to this section.

F. M. Jarrard has decided to sell out in Dahlonega and go west and endeavor to get a home on the Oklahoma lands soon to be opened out to settlers.

A Dog.—Lost or stolen a four year old Red Bone female hound. A liberal reward will be paid by Frank Rider here for its return or information of its whereabouts.

The Yahoola bridge has been in a dangerous condition ever since the freshet which will receive attention as soon as the ordinary can get the lumber to the place, it being already ordered.

The building of a railroad to Dahlonega will be the means of developing her vast iron ore beds that are now worthless without means of transportation, besides many other things of much importance too numerous to mention.

The good price of the products of the farm caused several tillers of the soil of Forsyth county to come up this way last week with loaded wagons. They received 95 cents per bushel for their corn and meal and $8.75 per barrel for flour.

Joe Moore, residing within a few miles of Dahlonega, killed six hawks the other day. It is customary when one kills a hawk for the rest of his neighbors to give him a chicken pie each. But now that Mr. Moore has killed six if they keep up this custom he will have enough pies to last him a long time.

Squire Worley just completed his list of tax payers residing in the town district last Saturday for the tax receiver in accordance with law. There were 498—432 whites and 66 colored. Squires are allowed three cents each for such work which will make a right nice little sum for all those in the county but it is the only way to get a full list of returns.

Mary Lou, a negro cook at B. R. Meaders, came near losing her life last Monday while starting on a drive in their slop wagon from the hog lot to town. She pitched forward behind the horses heads and could not extricate herself until she was dragged some fifty or seventy-five yards, lying perfectly helpless until she was picked up by some colored people while bleeding from numerous wounds on the face and head, fortunately none serious.

Dept. Collector H. O. Hopkins, of Jasper, Ga., has been here this week investigating the Clerk's records of the Superior Court. Some time in 1870 while J. A. Parker was running a government distillery he fell behind whose farm was sold and bid in by the government, Mr. Parker still being allowed to use it. Years afterwards it was sold by the sheriff of this county for some of Mr. Parkers debts. This time it was purchased by Col. Price, who afterwards traded it to Wehant and Edwards, and now the government means to recover it.

Patronize your home merchants who befriend you.

Two or three persons left out for Piekens county last week to keep from paying council fines.

Some of the young ladies of Dahlonega have been wearing a very sad look since the departure of the students.

So far the season has been unusually pleasant, so much so that but few summer visitors have started up this way yet.

Mr. Carlyse returned from the north Tuesday and left Wednesday started the survey on the G. and D. electric line.

J. B. Thomas, of the Dawsonville, Advertiser, was in Dahlonega shaking hands with his numerous friends latter part of last week.

All the present teachers of the N. G. A. College have been re-elected by the board of trustees for another year. This is proof enough that they have been giving satisfaction.

Parents are held responsible for the conduct of their children in Dahlonega to some extent by the mayor now. John Austin, colored, was fined one dollar and cost last week for something his had been doing.

Among the gentlemen mentioned last week on a visit here from the north we inadvertently failed to get the name of Fred W. Mangum, of Chicago, in print. The object of Mr. Mangums visit here was to look at the mines in company with the other gentlemen. All visited the them, subscribed for the Nugget and went away pleased.

It will be seen by an ad. elsewhere that the trustees of the N. G. A. College have decided to take action about the construction of the girls' dormitory, $5,000 being appropriated for this purpose at the last session of the legislature. Some want a brick structure but this amount of money won't build as large a house as a majority of the board want out of brick.

If any body is bad enough hurt at us to feel that they would like to fight a duel let them come down. It is against the law to do this but we can start at the top of the hill of Choice Street and run down towards the branch on Water Street, and if either escapes death it will be a mystery, for the record has not been touched in years. It is full of holes and gulleys and supplied with all kinds of rock, many being as large as a man's head, and when a teamster starts down it he closes his eyes and begins praying, asking the Lord to preserve his life until he can make the trip.

The amount of taxable property within the corporate limits as reported by the committee, is found to be $408,249,000, which assessed at 65 cents on the hundred, the rate fixed by the council, will enable them to raise $2,776.07. This does not include the sanitary or street taxes, the latter being about $900. We do not know what the sanitary tax makes, but the funds of either of the latter cannot be used for anything except that for which they are levied. The dog tax is only about $50. $1,280 of the general tax goes to the city public school, while the remainder is to pay the marshal and keep up other expenses. The fines never amount to much. The assessment is 5 cents higher on the hundred this year than last caused by a small decrease in the taxable property besides the principal of the graded school has been allowed a little more for his services. Prof. Martin most certainly deserves this small increase, and even more if the citizens were able to pay it. He has his pupils under splendid control, (even better than some of the college professors have theirs) they respect him and his assistants, having accomplished great good and the people are all well pleased with the school, its principal and his assistants.

The price of eggs is decreasing. Funglefoot Fly Paper at Matthews Drug Co.

Col. Charters is on a visit to Cumberland Island.

Dr. Jones has the painter touching up his drug store.

Steven Rice is now engaged in adding another story to his dwelling.

Tate & Sons are making an addition to their store room which will be used for the grocery department.

To RENT.—Two houses. One seven room and the other three. Apply to M. J. Williams, Dahlonega, Ga.

Quite a lot of strawberries in for sale early last Monday morning. Those who gather them have about as much as they can do on Sunday to attend Sabbath school, go to church and pick their supply of berries for the market.

The railroad surveyors have permanently located this end of the Gainesville and Dahlonega electric line and made calculations on the cost of the same. The other end will be completed at once after which the exact route will be made known to the directors.

We are sorrow to learn of the bad conduct of some boys and young men during the baptizing down at the creek last Sunday. Really we are surprised to hear of any sober persons going to a place of this kind and misbehaving. It may be put before the next grand jury for an investigation.

They must go and we are going to give you the benefits of them before the season is gone. We are now selling out our line of straw hats, Oxford ties, all spring goods at greatly reduced prices. We do not wait late in the season to give you these bargains but give them to you now.

FRANK L. REESE.
A short time ago the city council ordered the street through Capt. Hall's lot extending on down through Capt. Ingersolls, known as the Moody Tan Yard, opened out which was done. We learn since that an examination of the clerk's records show that Dr. Moody bought the street running through his tan yard, which we understand will be closed up again unless the city pays for it.

Last Sunday about dark Marshal Harbison received a telephone message from Mr. Ashley, who is dredge mining in the Chastee river, some three miles from Dahlonega, requesting him to come at once; his barn had been set a fire and he thought there might be a chance to catch the fiend. Mr. Harbison procured a horse and went in quick haste. Arriving, the fire had been put out after destroying a quantity of fodder and a portion of the roof of the building, and a number of neighbors with double barreled guns were watching a scope of woods where a man had been seen running directly after the fire broke out. A thorough search was made without finding anybody as they had ample time to get away before the search was commenced. Mr. Ashley was sitting in his porch when the fire blazed up. He procured his gun and ran shooting so as to give his neighbors the alarm, opening the stable so as to free his horse from the burning building, the animal coming out at his command as usual. By this time quite a number of persons had arrived who went to work and soon had the fire extinguished. This is something that we can't understand. Not long ago Mr. Ashley's kitchen was mysteriously burned. What anybody can have against him to want to injure him in this way we cannot understand, for he is a high toned gentleman and has treated every one well as far as we know. Fire fiends are dangerous in any community and we will be one often, twenty or more persons that will give $10 for the arrest with sufficient proof to convict this one or any other guilty of such conduct in Lumpkin county. Who and how many citizens will join us?

Klonkyke is hot beside Matthews soda fountain.

Rev. Wallace Rogers, of Dahlonega, will lecture at the Y. M. C. A. Building in Blue Ridge, June 18th, from the subject: "Chasing Rainbows."

We are told that there were near three hundred people at the burying of Jonas Woody at Mt. Zion cemetery last week. A purse of about thirty dollars was raised to assist Mrs. Woody and her eleven children by people present soon after her husband was laid to rest.

A. L. Donaldson, who has been at work for the Consolidated Co. took his departure last Friday for parts unknown leaving a board bill of $11.25 unpaid out at Capt. Woodwards besides other little bills in town. He is a reel footed man, and came here from Ducktown but was raised in North Carolina.

A man who gave his name as C. M. Cordle was bound over at this place by Com. Baker last Friday night and committed to Fulton county jail. He was caught running an illicit distillery with another man down in the edge of Hall county by officers Grizzle and Richardson. The other fellow got away. Cordle also escaped while being carried to Gainesville.

Judge Huff has been informed that only three out of the eight indigent widows of Lumpkin county applying for a state pension will be allowed. The names of the three being Mrs. S. E. Blackwell, Mrs. Sarah S. Anderson and Mrs. Henrietta S. Swain, whose money has not been received yet. They will be notified when it comes.

We are informed that Col. H. P. Farrow, proprietor of Porter Springs, in this county, has purchased the lot of land on which is the highest peak of the Black Mountain. This is about seven miles from Porter Springs which can be reached to the very top in a carriage or buggy. The Colonel is always looking after the comfort and pleasure of his guests who, can visit Black Mountain and view the country on both sides for many miles now.

The cow ordinance has either been repealed or is not being forced. Monday morning just at day light we counted eight cows and two yearling lying on the streets and public square. It would take at least ten marshals to do anything with the cows at this season of the year and it is useless to have such a law during the spring and summer. In fact we see no benefits to be derived from such a law at any time unless it is to accommodate some one having a sorry fence.

Owing to the trouble which arose between the two literary societies of the college over the recent decision made by the judges, almost causing a fight in the college chapel, the trustees have decided to take the matter in their own hands hereafter by appointing the judges themselves, who will write out the decision to be read the next day without any one knowing who rendered the decision except the trustees. Heretofore the judges have been appointed by the societies.

The Eagle says that the people of Gainesville are willing to help build the railroad to Dahlonega as soon as it is seen that the company means to do so. Most certainly if they don't then anything before. If they were any anxious for a railroad to Dahlonega it looks like more of her citizens would attend the meetings held down there than do. If the stockholders at its meeting in Gainesville the 29th last, decide to issue bonds then it will give Gainesville a chance to show her colors. Let it be remembered that this line is not compelled to be built to Gainesville but can connect with the Southern Road above.

Mayor Price Explains.

At the request of Col. Price we publish his reply to what we said about his official acts last week. It is long and windy and full of gas. Read it. It will not effect your heart and we trust it will give you no pains in your stomach. Here it is:

My attention has been called to your article in last week's issue, in which you criticize my action in firing the cadets only fifty cents with no costs, for discharging their rifles after the sham battle, when in your opinion, they deserved a severer penalty "because it was done for aggression," and then you conclude your article by suggesting my resignation as Mayor.

For more than twenty years it has been the unwritten law in Dahlonega that cadets were allowed to fire off their extra blank shells or cartridges during the afternoon and night of the sham battle, notwithstanding there was an ordinance against the indiscriminate firing of guns, etc., within the corporate limits. This ordinance can be suspended at any time by order of the Mayor, as has recently been done to protect owners of gardens from destructive birds. The ordinance has never been enforced before at the time of the sham battles, especially as the shells are empty and are harmless. The cases reported to me occurred the afternoon and night of the sham battle, except one which occurred about noon the next day. There were no trials. All the boys reported to me at my residence. It is true, there was a technical violation of the ordinance, as the same had not been suspended by my official order. In fact no order in any of this kind had ever been published, and no cases were ever before reported, as it had been usual for the cadets to fire off their rifles, then clean them, and restore them to the armory. There was no malice in the cases, and but one attempt to evade the fine, which was paid. But for the fact that two other cases, for firing guns had been previously dealt with (one by the Mayor and the other by the Mayor pro tem) it is possible that no report would have been made against the cadets. These cases were not at all similar to the cases made against the cadets, after the sham battle. In the latter cases there was a technical violation of the law, but the law itself was vindicated. The wrong done, if any, is not suspending the ordinance for that day, "as it had never been enforced on that day."

The editor of the Nugget was not serious when he suggested my resignation. If he was, then he has forgotten the universal rule that those who are compelled to inflict sentences, never resign their offices upon request of those who have violated laws and come under sentence. No offender "ever felt the halter drawn, with a good opinion of the law," or the one who had to enforce the same.

Whichever a respectable number of citizens of Dahlonega, who respect the laws of the city and who have not fines imposed upon them at my hands, and who will give good reasons for my resignation of the office of Mayor, and will address me in communication through a responsible source, I will immediately consider the same.

It will be seen that the above is a very flimsy explanation, and as the Col. handles the facts carelessly we will produce our last weeks paragraph so as to show with additional facts to strangers (our citizens already know it) that he carries too much prejudice and has not been acting the part of an impartial official. It is true the Colonel had the pleasure of firing us together with some of the leading citizens and business men for a thing he had a few days previously failed to fine others—some of them councilmen—giving them time to enlarge their hog pens—it being the ordinance by us. "Our opinion of the law" is not in it. Had he fined all alike we would not have said a word. That was a year ago. It's an old matter. We are talking about the present. We want the law enforced, but let it be done strictly, honestly, conscientiously without hope of reward, fear or favoritism. We may be irresponsible in the eyes of the Colonel, and violated the laws but thank God we can tell the truth occasionally as well as some who are no saint but still are not guilty of misrepresenting our sons age in order for him to secure a fat position in the U. S. army. Neither do we expect to belong to any church until they are purified and brought back to the rules of old time religion when a member word was as good as his hand. We are nothing but a country doctor, try to be honest, and can get a few dollars worth of goods on time here in our native town as quick as Col. Price even if he does insinuate that we are "irresponsible" and today had just as soon risk our chances of getting to heaven as the Colonels. It's true that he has been elected Mayor twice in succession in Dahlonega, but he wanted it so badly the last time that the citizens gave him 79 votes, elected him, preferring this to a guide. No, the Colonel wouldn't resign if the whole town was to ask him to. He likes office too well. He used to go to Congress and after failing to be seated, the second term dropped step by step until he has got down to Mayor, not for the money there is in it but just so he can have it to say that he holds an office.

Now to the paragraph before we forget it. We can say much more but will wait and give Col. Price another say so in our columns free of charge if he desires further discussion. Our item read thus:

"This week Marshal Harbison caught several students shooting, which is a strict violation of law. Besides this they did it simply for aggression. The officer made a case against them and Mayor Price only fined them 50 cents each, remitting the cost. This is the least fine ever placed on any body for anything. We have the highest regard for Col. Price but if we were in his place and couldn't help showing such partiality as this we would resign."

Here is the original's violent: "Sec. 153. Any person in said town who shall shoot, discharge or fire any cannon, aerial, dynamite, gun, pistol, prior rifle, shotgun, or any other kind of dangerous weapon, or shall fire, discharge, throw or explode any fire crackers, fireworks, sky rockets, twine balls without first obtaining the permission of the Mayor or Mayor pro tem, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor" etc.

Now the Colonel says that "it had been the custom for the cadets to shoot on sham battle days and that this shooting was not done through any malice, always doing this, cleaning and turning in their guns," when really the guns were not turned in until the afternoon of the next day. Now let us see a little before we get too far. A week or ten days before this after a sham battle several shots were fired. One cadet was arrested for shooting these blank cartridges. That night at a late hour probably a hundred shots were fired, alarming and causing a number of northern visitors here at that time to enquire what in the world it meant. The Mayor pro tem fined the one convicted $2 and cost. He gave this and other students present a lengthy talk, advising them to quit such conduct. It was so disturbing that members of the council appealed to the marshal to use extra diligence on these occasions after the sham battles. He did so. Hiring a man to help him, who caught a congressmans son walking down a side walk loading and shooting, scaring a teamsters mules. Five other cases were made by the marshal against cadets for shooting and 50 cents each was all they had to pay. One of them told the marshal afterwards that he was expecting not to get off with less than $5, when during the same week the Col. fined a negro $1 and cost for what his children did. A man $5 and cost who was kicked out of a drug store and even out on the side walk without even resenting it. Let's true the fellow was drunk but not long before a student in the same condition was fined only one cent and cost. At another time a student was made to pay $1 and only the marshals cost by Mayor Price for kicking a poor little fatherless boy on the streets until old men and good citizens were about to interfere. In conclusion let us say that we have no fault against any of the students, but want justice done. If it was not right for them to pay a fine let each one 50 cents he recommended.

Lumpkin Loses One of Her Teachers.

EDITOR NUGGET:—Will you allow me space in your paper to inform the patrons of Dewey School No. 11 that on account of having been elected by the City Board of Education to a position in the Jesup public school. I have sent my resignation as principal of Dewey School to the county board of education of Lumpkin county.

While I have decided to cast my lot, for a time, with the people in the "balmy southland," I regret to part with my pupils and patrons at Dewey to whom I am much devoted. I especially regret that the building of a new church, which was begun there last year is not completed. And I want to urge you people to push the work to a finish while you have the co-operation of Col. Price and brother O'Kelly.

I will turn over the funds which I collected to the building committee when you are ready to use it. If the building should be abandoned, I will send it to Dahlonega to be distributed among the contributors. Hoping that my successor will be an efficient, "up-to-date" teacher I remain,

Yours Respectfully,
LILA CAIN.

J. F. Bennett, P. M. of Wier, Ga., charged with being connected with furnishing material for a blockade distillery, was tried by Com. Baker to-day (Thursday) and acquitted.

The Rod and the Child.

Once upon a time there lived in Chicago, Ill., a little boy who would not go to school.

Instead of beating him his parents appealed to his civic pride. "Unless you go to school," said they, "you won't be counted in the school census, and the school census, is often used as a basis for estimating the population of our beautiful city."

At this the little boy went to school so assiduously that his mind became affected. "Alas!" cried his parents, for now when it was too late they perceived the unwisdom of sparing the rod. —Detroit Journal.

Chicago's Saloon Business.

Nearly one-third of the more than $11,000,000 of Chicago's yearly revenues is derived from saloon licenses. Other facts and figures presented by the Chicago Tribune show the size of the rum business. There are 6,371 saloons in the city, and it is estimated that they sell 1,700,000 barrels of beer in a year and, of course, large quantities of liquors. It is assumed that the saloons, big and little, takes in an average of $25 a day. Virtually all of them keep open on Sunday, and for a year of 365 days this means $85,125,375 a year as the bar bill of Chicago.

A Sprained Ankle Quickly Cured.

"At one time I suffered from a severe sprain of the ankle," says Geo. E. Cary, editor of the Guide, Washington, Va. "After using several well recommended medicines without success, I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and am pleased to say that relief came as soon as I began its use and a complete cure speedily followed." Sold by The Matthews' drug store.

THE CROWN MOUNTAIN GOLD Mining & Milling Co.

The Crown Mountain properties are situated in the very heart of the Georgia gold belt and is in the radiating center of all the leading gold veins of the Dahlonega district. They embrace what is believed to be the mother lode of the Appalachian Range.

The extensive and rich ore bodies in sight upon these properties assure long and profitable operations and the indisputable guarantee of the permanent and increasing value of the stock of "The Crown Mountain Co."

The projectors of this company were the first to revive the mining interest in this district in 1896. After three years of careful and exhaustive examination of all the mines of the district of reputation as gold producers, and they had the choice of all, they selected the Crown Mountain combination as the ideal gold mine of the district which would yield or produce the most gold with the least expense. This opinion is shown by all the mining engineers, mining experts, miners and citizens of any standing in the district who are familiar with the properties. As an evidence of this we herewith state that more of the citizens of the town of Dahlonega and vicinity have taken stock in this company than have in all the other companies combined that have organized in this district.

The company is to be managed by practical business men—who have given much of their time to mining and mining operations, and always with unvarying success.

The present directory is for the most part composed of men who have had much experience in the mining enterprises, and under its efficient and economical management, and by reason of a visible gold supply that is practically inexhaustible, an investment in the stock of this company is undoubtedly safe.

The capitalization of the company is not commensurate with the visible productivity of the properties, and is meagre compared with the capitalization of other justly celebrated mines in the district, but the management believe it will be able to make the stock worth above par.

We invite all prospective investors to make a personal inspection of the mines. We also invite them to examine all the other mines in the district—compare the quality and quantity of the ore and the facilities for economically treating the same. We have no fears of where the choice will fall.

Until further notice of advance in prices, the stock of this company will be sold at the minimum rate of 65.00 per share. For further information apply to J. F. or H. Moore, Dahlonega, Ga., or Donovan & McCabe, 10 & 12 West Spring Street, Columbus, Ohio, or Gen. Warner, Marietta, Ohio.

When the Whistle Blows.

There are some people who will have their overalls loosened, their pipes shaken out, and their caps at their elbows, to cut and run at the minute the whistle sounds. There are some who will cut and run at that preliminary wheeze the whistle gives before it actually whistles. The man who does not take more interest in his work than to quit it, short and sharp, right on the second, and suffers agonies when he gets to his working place a few minutes ahead of time, never makes any progress.—Greenville News.

A "cure" that beats Christian Science, faith healing, colored lights and all of the other doctorless fads is reported from Texas. A Mr. Lewis was believed to be dying with scarlet fever, in Austin. Miss Bjorn, his sweetheart, went off and got the license and married him. Mr. Lewis began to improve immediately, and in a short time had fully recovered. Will the marriage "cure" become popular?—Marietta Journal.

The following political predictions are going the rounds of the press; J. Pope Brown will be Cleveland's successor; Senator Clay will succeed himself; Clark Howell will be governor after Brown; Hoke Smith will be United States senator when Bacon's present term is out; Porter King will succeed Livingston to congress next year. —Summersville News.

The First Kiss.

Professor Crook, of Chicago is thirty-seven years old, and boasts of the fact that he has never in-gled or kissed a girl in his life. Sen.
Depew expresses his contempt for a man who has slept this long over his rights, and graphically describes the first kiss he ever stole from a pair of cherry lips while boating on the Hudson, and concludes his little speech as follows:
"Well, we talked. After awhile
we let the boat drift, I rather think.
Maybe her pretty eyes drew me nearer to her. Maybe her loose curls touched my cheek. Maybe we were saying tender nothings.
Maybe I touched her hand. Then it happened. It is the touch that does it—the electric thrill. A young fellow could no more help than he could stop a storm, and the girl couldn't either. Why should they? There is the silvery quiet, there is the pretty girl darling him, there's the young fellow
—then there's a kiss. "It was the old story of Eve and the apple. It always is. The right sort of a young fellow can't resist the for-bidden fruit, and Eve doesn't want him to. It is very late for Crook to begin. He can never come the way of bliss that every other man has come. He can never enjoy the challenge from the rough eye of youth. Now he must be the aggressor. Still it is not too late for even a smug like Crook to repent and reform. He must be saved.
The girls must do it. They owe it to the sex to wipe out the stigma of this man getting up and proclaiming that in a life of thirty-seven years he has never hugged or kissed a girl."—Ex.

A day laborer at Hazleton, Pa., read in a paper a few days ago of the immense salary paid to President Charles M. Schwab by the United States Steel Corporation.
The laborer's pay was $4.05 per day. With a pencil he figured out how long it would take him to earn what Mr. Schwab receives per year, and announced to some friend
that it would require just 3,052 years, 9 months and 5 hours. Then he went off and committed suicide.

You can get most of the local news a week earlier by taking the NUGGET.

Persons having job work done must remember that we can turn it off cheaper by the thousand or more than for a less quantity.

Cane Creek falls are beginning to attract the attention again this season of all those desiring to enjoy themselves in the water.

A few nights since a young man slipped out one of his pants kittens and gave it to a young lady who he expected to wear if they can come to terms.

The local department and general make up of our contemporary,
the Signal, has greatly improved since two little boys have been employed in the office.

Henry King's little child died one day last week. It was only a few weeks old and had lived longer than was expected on account of its back bone not being connected,
being several inches between the ends.

Tax receiver Healan, recently chosen at a special election, caused by the death of the former receiver Stargel, is making quick time so as not to be behind with his work, visiting two precincts in one day very often.

We started out in the beginning to how to the line by giving the news as it occurs, treating all alike
and if any ones feelings are hurt
it will make no difference to us and no damage will be done unless they get as mad as the fellow who saw the bear.

City taxes would not have been 68 cents this year had the officials last year made a closer calculation and spent some less money than they did on things that could have gone for awhile. For this reason more than $200 had to be borrowed to finish running the public schools.

Remember that the railroad directors of the Gainesville and Dahlonega electric line have a meeting in Dahlonega next Saturday. Besides this a public meeting will be held, during which you will be told all about the proposed line. Come in and listen, then you will be posted.

The teachers of Lumpkin county
as well as the teachers of the whole state, are very much surprised in not getting their money. The recent decision of the Supreme Court in the state treasurer's case does not force him to pay out any of the funds he has on hand and there is no telling now when they will get it.

Some time ago Noah Head, of this county, cut down a tree having a lot of young owls in it, one of which he saved. This he put in a box and placed it out a short distance from the house where the old one has raised it on rabbits and most everything else it could catch. It is not a very pretty pet but is kept merely as a curiosity,
for such are not often owned.

Recently a man and his boy residing in Dahlonega decided that they would make a pleasure trip down in to Hall county—
one riding a horse and the other a mule. But after starting out they tanked up on corn liquor and turned it into a flying visit. The last heard of them they passed Clint Mattox in Hall county at a high rate of speed, the boy whipping his mule with his hat while his father used a switch, making their way towards Gainesville. A man and his boy both drunk together cutting such shins as this presents a sight that is everything but pretty.

The Doctor vs. the Editor.

"The doctor from Bonanza says,
we are running our paper for revenue only. What in the thunder do the doctors run for anyway?
Do they run for glory? One good healthy doctor's bill would run this office six months. An editor works a whole day for two dollars with an investment of $3000; a doctor looks wise and works ten minutes for $2, with an investment of 3 cents for catnip and a pill box that costs $1.97. A doctor goes to college a few years gets a diploma and a string of words the devil himself can't pronounce, cultivates a look gravity that he palms off for wisdom, gets a box of pills, a cayuse and a meat saw and sticks out his shingle a full-fledged doctor. He will then doctor you till you die at a stipulated price per visit; and put them in as thick as your pocket will permit. An editor never gets his education finished; he learns as long as he lives and studies all his life. He eats bran mash and liver and takes his pay in hay and turnips. If the editor makes a mistake he has to apologize for it, but if the doctor makes a mistake he buries it. If we make one there is a law suit, tall swearing and a smell of sulphur, but if the doctor makes one there is a funeral, cut flowers and a smell of varnish. If a doctor goes to see another man's wife he will charge the man for the visit. If the editor calls on another man's wife he gets a charge of buckshot.

The editor works to keep from starving, while the doctor works to ward off the gout. The editor helps men to live better and the doctor assists men to die easy.
The doctor pulls a sick man's leg,
the editor is even glad if he can every collect his bill at all. Revenue only? We are living for fun and to spite the doctors.—Doubila Telephone.

Rat Snowed Him the Mine.

The action of a rat led N. B. Ingoldsbys to the discovery of a rich gold mine in Arizona. He named the property the Rat mine.

Mr. Ingoldsbys had been spending several months near Mammoth, on the San Pedro river in Arizona. His purpose was to enjoy the hunting and make a collection of the animals and minerals of the southwest. He pitched his tent in the canyon of the San Pedro, in the Santa Catarina mountains, says a Los Angeles exchange.

He had no neighbors, and was for a long time unable to account for the disappearance of small articles that he left lying about his camp. At last he noticed that when anything was taken something was left in its place. This was usually a bit of stone or wood. The culprit he found to be a rodent of the species known as the trading rat. The habits of the animal made an interesting study for Mr. Ingoldsbys, and he often lay awake at night to watch for his visitor.

A silver spoon was missing one morning, and in its place was a piece of quartz carrying free gold.
This still more excited Mr. Ingoldsbys's curiosity, and after several attempts he succeeded in following the animal to its home. Near by was the ledge from which the gold bearing quartz had been taken.
Mr. Ingoldsbys made an examination thorough enough to prove that his discovery was of considerable value.

An east storm last week was a draw back to farming, mining and all other out door work for a few days.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JUNE 21, 1901.
Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O.
as Second Class Matter.

The state treasury seems to be in an "unhealthy" condition.

The state confederate home at Atlanta has 41 inmates, all apparently enjoying themselves.

Dr. Broughton has gone to Europe and Atlanta has got no one to create her sensations during his absence.

Five negroes were hanged at Sylvania Ga., last Friday, and it wasn't much of a good day for a negro killing either.

Over thirty thousand Filipino insurgents becoming tired of war lay down their guns last week and surrendered to Americans.

Georgia's school for the deaf and dumb is badly crowded. There are over two hundred pupils. As many as 18 boys sleep in one room.

A negro man knocked down an old white lady at Macon the other night, and then left out. Don't follow him. If you do the troops will be ordered out.

Julius Bailey, a brother-in-law of J. F. Castleberry, of Dahlonega, died a few days ago in Dawson county. Lige Bennett also died there the other day.

Canton's high school is now without a teacher or a single trustee. The latter having resigned on account of its slow progress and the small amount of interest the people were taking in the school.

The manufacturer of chemical liquor in Dawson county is going to be prosecuted. It has killed one man and caused another drinking it to vomit till he lost the lining of his stomach.

The pension commissioner of Georgia has approved the claims of 1,049 out of the 2,023 applications of the new class of widows, but states that none of them will receive their money this year.

It is stated that the negroes of Leavenworth, Kan., are buying up all the pistols they can get. Some of the little Dahlonega sixteen-year-old boys ought to dispose of theirs now while pistols are worth something.

Persons have already commenced dying from heat in Chicago, while here in Dahlonega we have not quit sleeping under cover this season. If you wish to enjoy rest and happiness come and spend the summer in the city of the mountains where heat never disturbs the slumberer from a quiet and peaceful rest.

F. W. Murray, of Chicago, proposes to organize a company to develop the water power known as Dunlap Shoals, near Gainesville, on the Chattahoochee river with a capacity of 3,000 horse power, into electricity and transmit the same to the city for the purpose of furnishing light, heat and power for all purposes.

The Philadelphia North American says: "The springing up of manufacturing towns and cities throughout the South will stimulate every branch of industry. It is not merely a question of finding easier and better sale for the few raw materials that go into the making of finished articles, but of encouraging a greater diversity in production. Immigration and advancement in a material way will constantly create new needs that must be supplied and afford new openings for profitable labor."

"In the beginning God created the heavens and earth. Then he made the editor, the liberal advertiser and the prompt-paying subscribers, and it was good. The next day a blizzard set in, and he created the man who didn't believe in advertising, and another who didn't take his home paper, then he rested. The devil then got into the molding room, and he created the fellow who takes the paper for years and then fails to pay for it. The devil then rested, but the editor hasn't had any rest since.—EX.

A Miner Talks Some.

ED. NUGGET—

I never forget Thursday at 4 p. m. No matter how tired I am I take a 4 miles walk after my Negroer and never lay it down till I read every word in it. I like the originality of your editorials and local matters, no matter who writes them. I am confident that you have done more for the upbuilding of Dahlonega, so far as the mining interest is concerned than any other man in it. When mistakes were made you showed to the world the how and wherefore it was done. The Consolidated has not got a single mine but what would pay a handsome dividend if put in charge of native miners. The past shows that I am correct. I have made a living in the mines for the past 15 years by working after the so-called northern experts, wasting up what they have lost. Yet in all that time I never had a lease on any mine only for one day at a time having to stop at any time the owners said so. The Findley will pay on its low grade ore. The Ivy is full of rich pockets and chutes and no expense to open up or prospecting necessary. All they would have to do would be to put the water back on the Hand ditch or say one fourth of it. The balance of the water will be sufficient for all mining purposes at the Hand. The Doghead has only been opened at one place viz the Barlow. That vein runs through all their property and the writer has made 300 pennyweights in nuggets from 12 to 22 pennyweight pieces on old works that had been worked over half a dozen times. That all came from the Doghead vein over one mile from where they have it opened. It is just as good or better than the Barlow. If the Consolidated would clean out the Cane Creek ditch, take their surplus piping for their trestles, and put the water on the Ivy three or four hands can make good money there. I mean native miners or those having mined here long enough to become acquainted with the formation of this country from the first week after going to work.

Now, just another word and I am done. You said something about some legislative figuring in last weeks Nugget. Oh yes, of course we will have quite a number of aspirants for the honor but we won't need 'em for some time to come. As you say, Mr. Bruce jumped in to the boat and paddled it to shore and landed at the capitol. And then look at his record. We have had no better members than he made since the crusification. His vote was right in every particular. He got more for the College than any other of his predecessors and is a man that will climb onward and upward. The longer he stays the better he will get. Raised an orphan—his father gave him life for the rights of our old glorious old state of Georgia. He hired out when in his teens to work on the farm at 48 per month to help support a widowed mother and fatherless children. He got his education as best he could. Well, you fellows dry up, Bruce will go back to Atlanta in 1902 and '4, if he want to, and then he will be handed the ladder to the U. S. Senate if he desires it.

NATIVE MINER.

Pupils Receiving Hororable Mention.

ED. NUGGET—

As the pupils of the fourth and fifth grades of the Public School deservedly have won recognition for faithful and painstaking work during the scholastic year just closed, I would be glad if you would find space in your columns to publish the following names of pupils honorably mentioned. With this list not a pupil in his respective grade, have failed to receive either a tangible testimonial of his year's work, or, an honorable mention of his name, which is an exceptional record.

Fourth Grade—Thomas McGee, Miley Worley, Ada George.

Fifth Grade—Garland Strickland, Lily Prator, Robert Moore, Carl Brooksher, Fanny McDonald, Ballenger Moore, Burt McGee, Vernon Moore, Clayton Crisston, Carl Williams, May Thomas.

BELLE MARION THARIN.

Congressman Tate Comes to Col. Price's Relief.

ED. NUGGET—

I leave all the matters in dispute between us to the decision of your readers in Dahlonega, just where you referred them.

There is slander, however, which your readers cannot decide because they know nothing of the facts. You stated that improper methods were used to secure my son's appointment in the army. That I misrepresented his age. As Congressman Tate had the papers in the case I sent to him for a statement of the facts. He has written them in the following note, which you are asked to print, and then your readers will know where the truth is. I had supposed that every body was proud that Dahlonega and its college had a representative of some sort fighting for the flag of his country in foreign lands. But there is one and only one, who is willing to use detraction and calumny. Loving friends however will see that the shafts of malice cannot reach Fred Price.

W. P. PRICE.

JASPER, GA., June 18, 1901.

Hox. W. P. PRICE.

DAHLONEGA, GA.

DEAR COL—

Yours requesting a statement in reference to the representation made by you in regard to the age of your son, Lieut. Fred Price, has been and at the time of his appointment in the U. S. army, received. Any statement that you misrepresented your son's age in order to secure his appointment in the U. S. army is untrue, on the contrary you wrote Senator Bacon and myself, and you also filed a written statement in the War Department, with the application and endorsement of your son, Lieut. Fred Price, in this written statement to the War Department, you not only gave your son's age, but on account of his not then being twenty-one years of age you consented to his enlistment and appointment in the U. S. army.

Yours truly,

Just a few words in reply to the Colonel and then we will close. Lieut. Fred Price's name has never been mentioned in the Nugget only in a complimentary manner and we have not the malice in our heart to feel or detract a single word we have uttered in his favor. We are proud of Dahlonega and the college representative in the army, his age makes no difference to us. Just so he does his duty, and from all accounts he has done that. The Lieutenants name wasn't mentioned by us last week. The nearest allusion made to it in our article was in the following words: "We are no saint but still we are not guilty of misrepresenting our son's age in order for him to secure a fat position in the U. S. Army." This would not have been said had we not been misled by a remark or request Colonel Price made during a friendly conversation between us. It is his office some time ago about the time the Colonel was working for his sons promotion, being in the following language: "Fred was not quite of age but say nothing about it." We are no near as unfair, prejudiced or as full of malice as the Colonel would have you believe. So we will close, trusting if Col. Price and the writer never meet together here on earth again that they may each be successful in reaching that beautiful land on high and drink together out of the spring that never runs dry and both be supplied with a beautiful crown—we don't care if it is as big as a hoghead with stars on it as large as snowflakes—and if there is but one of these crowns and it is tendered as we will give it to the Colonel, let him wear it and we will go home. Maybe then we will be able to convince him that we have no malice toward him.

If some people in Dahlonega would serve the Lord instead of men it would benefit them more in the end. We depise this button hole business.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JUNE 21, 1901.

Lemons, lemons, lemons at Matthews.

Mrs. W. A. Charters left for Atlanta last week to be gone some two or three months.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hatfield went down to Monticella last week on a visit to relatives.

The blockader wouldn't come nearer than the Yahoola creek last Saturday and Sunday causing purchasers to have to walk more than a mile after liquor.

Mrs. B. R. Meaders' beautiful pea fowl which used to disturb the drowsy sleepers so early in Dahlonega has been gone about a month, and was likely killed or has been stolen.

Some of you country postmasters read your postal guides a little and see if you who are too stingy to subscribe for a paper, have any right to ready any of those in the postoffice. By doing so it might save you trouble.

Those interested will bear in mind that the Supreme Court has recently decided that a legal sale of less than a hundred words is counted at a hundred and the printer has to be paid 75 cents each for the first four insertions.

As soon as commencement ended, three students remained here and went to work on the railroad survey. The sun is hot and the work is not pleasant by any means but industrious young men like these will be rewarded in the future.

We return thanks to Judge Brittain for a choice lot of lettuce last Friday. The bunches were as large as the Florida cabbage and the ones we have ever seen grown in this country. The Judge always kindly remembers his friends when having any thing nice and good.

The pine log which we mentioned some weeks ago as being a fire for more than a month up at the foot of the mountain, was still burning last Sunday. Several persons went up to see it. It was set on the first day of April and had burned continuously ever since—more than two months—and may be a fire yet.

Miss Scaife, who has been conducting the model school of the N. G. A. College for some time, left for her home at Camilla, Ga., last Friday. This department of the institution having been abolished this most excellent teacher will not return any more to the regret of her many friends here.

Friday morning twenty minutes after 4 o'clock a young lady of Dahlonega had milked and turned out the cow. Such a girl as this is worth forty of those who sleep till 9 o'clock and upon rising light out on an old piano and thump and beat for half an hour, while their breakfast is kept warm on the stoves by their mothers, when if it was called work they couldn't be hired to do it.

Administrators, guardians, executors and trustees should not fail to make their returns according to law otherwise they lay themselves liable to be prosecuted. The present law requires this to be done by the first of July. The chances are that some estates have been wound up and no final returns made. In other counties we notice that the ordinaries are looking up this matter and we judge that ours is doing likewise.

Merchants who commenced advertising with us more than four years ago have continued doing so ever since, and we are glad to say that they are doing a prosperous business. This proves that it pays them otherwise they would not do so. It's not just to "collect a bad debt" for we owe them nothing. Neither is it because they love us for business men do not give any money to persons, a man especially, for love these days. It's simply because it pays them.

The coolest thing in town. "Matthews Popular Font."

You will find at J. F. Moores a large lot of fruit jars and rubbers.

Try "Matthews" Diarrhoea and Dysentery Remedy and be relieved.

The first new Irish potatoes in Dahlonega sold for 60 cents per peck.

This is the dullest season of the year because the farmers who feed us all are busy tilling the soil.

Montie Moore is located at the drug store of the Matthews Co. during his school vacation, busily engaged at the soda fountain, furnishing customers with ice cold drinks.

A man fell into a gully at Gainesville the other day and broke his leg. We have been expecting something of this kind to happen in Dahlonega, as some of the back streets are in bad shape.

If we should misrepresent anything and it displeases you the columns of the NUGGET are open to you free of charge for a reply. Be to the point. Drive it to us hot and heavy. The harder the storm the sooner it is over.

It seems that there is about to be another separation in this county between a man and his wife by mutual agreement. That is, the husband informed Ordway Huff so the other day and desired to know how to proceed about a division of their worldly goods.

The first vehicle to pass over the new street opened out through Hall's lot near a month ago, was the scavenger wagon last Friday. The old negro had to jump his mule over gullies and holes, but fortunately he made it without injury to himself, mule or carriage.

There is a bright future before Dahlonega. As Col. Wier Boyd used to say, "the boom is in the air." It is going to be a permanent one. In thirty or sixty days the rattle of the pick and shovel by hundreds of men will be heard at various mines near Dahlonega where every thing is now quiet and still.

Two weddings occurred in Dahlonega last Sunday. One couple being Mr. W. H. Coley to Miss Mattie E. Jarrard and the other was Mr. W. W. Allison, of Blairsville, Ga., to Miss Christine Davis, formerly of Young Harris, Esquire W. J. Worley performed the first ceremony and Rev. W. H. McAfee the last.

Notwithstanding there has already been between seventy-five and a hundred dollars worth of work done on Clarksville street this year some of the council want to have dirt and rock hauled in the level in front of Capt. Woodwards so as to get it in an oval shape. It won't cost less than a hundred more to do this, but go ahead. The people don't mind paying taxes.

P. Davidson, the splendid photographer of Cleveland, Ga., who has been engaged here for a number of months has returned to his home with the expectation of coming back again as soon as the dull season is over. Mr. Davidson made friends with every one he met, is a perfect gentleman in every sense of the word and his permanent citizenship here would be very acceptable.

Quite a number of young ladies and gentlemen of Dahlonega visited the power plant, of the Crown Mountain Company last Sabbath up at Seabolt Shoals. Though the most of them were raised here in the mountain city it was quite a pleasant trip for them to go to the foot of the Blue Ridge and see the power which is to drive the gigantic machinery of this most enterprising company within the next few days.

Prof. Gaillard is off on a visit to his mothers at Griffin, Ga.

"Lim-ade," cool and refreshing at Matthews popular font.

Mrs. Fannie Ferguson, of this county, died last Monday aged about 87.

A little child of Mr. and Mrs. F. Cole died in Dahlonega last Wednesday night.

The four-year old child of S. M. Colman died at New Bridge last Monday.

A little two-year-old child of James Wheelchel died near New Bridge on Tuesday.

U. S. Col. Spence came over from Jasper Monday on business and was caught in a heavy hail storm.

In our local on the first page we meant to say that the railroad meeting would be held Saturday the 29th.

Prof. Stevens, the principal of the North Georgia Baptist School at Morganton, passed through our city last week.

Monday's storm prevented any conversation over the telephone line for several days until repairs could be made.

It was a good time last week for Will Price to get mud for his brick yard but it was too wet and cloudy to mould and dry them.

Attorney Huff has just returned from a visit to Atlanta and Athens. Mrs. Huff and the children will remain in Atlanta for a week or so.

Little Geo. Stanston is assisting P. L. Rees in the store. George is quite a young clerk but he ties up goods as well as some clerks of much older years.

Wednesday morning a letter found on the office doorstep addressed to us says that Frank Little has run away leaving his wife and child for the wives parents to support.

A horse belonging to B. F. Anderson died the other day, while being driven by Oscar Roberts and Pierce Edmonson. They were arrested in Gainesville and brought back for trial.

There is going to be another wedding in Dahlonega soon. Why do we know? You may ask. Because the young man has already purchased his cooking stove, household goods and got a cat.

Tom, Anderson, col., while vomiting on the side walk last Saturday from the effects of liquor, was taken from his embarrassing position by the marshal to the calaboose where he could puke behind closed doors.

Jack Johnson and Lester Parks were arrested by Sheriff Davis Tuesday. The former is charged with selling liquor and the latter whipped "Humped Backed" Stevens for failing to pay him for liquor he (Parks) had sold to the old man.

W. L. Albright, of Blue Ridge, Ga., is at the Dahlonega Hotel exhibiting the cheapest gold saving device we have yet seen. There is no barrel in a barrel or turning of any crank, but turtle shaped pieces of copper placed on the plates, in the rifle box or sluice box properly constructed and nature does the rest. Go and see it.

Hon. G. D. Bruce is strictly in it and is one of the most active men in Lumpkin just now. He catches turtles of a night, takes pictures during the day and represents the county in the legislature in the fall. He caught a dozen turtles out of his fish pond Friday night which kept those in Dahlonega licking it with soap for two or three days.

Hulda Higgins, who had been staying at Jim Gibbs' left the other day or night carrying off a dress pattern that didn't belong to her. After going to Mrs. Jim Adams and leaving her child she made for the woods, making her headquarters at Liz Anderson, a negro. Marshal Harrison traced her up, got the cloth and informed her that she must get her child and leave the negro house.

Gen. Warner returned from the north last Saturday accompanied by his daughter.

Some parties enjoyed themselves last Sunday in shooting their pistols out at Cane Creek Falls.

To RENT.—Two houses. One seven room and the other three. Apply to M. J. Williams, Dahlonega, Ga.

Sheriff Davis' wife and one of his children have the measles, being about all the cases we know of in town.

Col. S. C. Champion, a leading lawyer of Nashville, Tenn., has been in Dahlonega looking over the gold fields for several days since our last issue.

Mrs. Joe Brown, who resides near the line of White and Lumpkin, died last Saturday, leaving three little children and a husband to mourn her loss.

A Dog.—Lost or stolen, a four month old Red Bone hound. A liberal reward will be paid by Frank Rider here for its return or information of its whereabouts.

Clyde Meaders, at the sale of Mr. Jarrard last Saturday, purchased his residence, which is located in a most desirable place of the city. This looks to us like Clyde is going to engage in matrimony.

Dr. Grove, the dentist is now located in the building on the corner above the Nugget office, where he is ready to do any kind of work performed in his line upon short notice at the most reasonable terms. Call on him as he is sure to give satisfaction.

A telegram states that Wm. Arrandale, son of P. L. Arrandale, who used to reside in Dahlonega, was killed in Texas a few days ago. He was at work in some mines, but it didn't state whether he was killed by accident or whether some body did it.

The city council of Gainesville will act upon an application of certain franchisees asked for by the directors of the Gainesville & Dahlonega Electric Railway Co. at its next regular meeting. A permanent survey is being made now getting ready for business.

J. W. Adams and F. G. Thompson, of the Consolidated, and R. L. McCabe, of Crown Mountain, are here; latter accompanied by his wife, of Ohio, C. M. Merreck, of Pennsylvania and W. F. Huntley, of Illinois. May they all enjoy themselves.

If any of our Dahlonega subscribers see a cross mark on the margin of their paper they may know that their subscription to the same has expired. If they do not wish to renew because they fear it is, may the devil miss them. If they can't renew because they are not able, may the Lord bless them, and if they can and see proper to continue taking the Nugget we will comfort them by continuing to print a live, wide awake up to date local paper.

It was the aim of the Dahlonega bank to be opened last Monday but a delay was caused in the shipment of some suitable material for the building caused by the rains. It will be open now the 25th. The first and last bank established in Dahlonega was located in the Meaders building more than 60 years ago, which did a thriving business for a while. One was also in operation then at or near Auraria called the Pigeon Roost Bank.

Capt. Hall's citizenship was missed considerably by the city tax assessors in a financial manner while looking up taxable property recently. Last year his money and personal property in Dahlonega footed up $30,000. Now he is at Ingleside, Ga., and all this is returned there. There are a great many ways in which Capt. Hall will be missed. He spent on an average of about $1,000 annually in building and improving his city property, giving employment to quite a number of laborers at a time often when they could not get work to do elsewhere.

Mining Notes

There is no animosity existing between the writer or any of the mining companies. We only report facts. If a mine does not pay we say so, and if we can give any cause we do so. If not beneficial to them it may be to others. If a person gets sick we tell what the doctors say is the matter with them. If they die we do likewise. Now when a gold mine gets sick why not tell the disease and give a remedy before it dies, and thus be a warning to others so that they can commence taking the proper medicine and prevent a contagious disease from spreading?

T. J. Norrell and Arthur Miller still continue placer mining on the Briar Patch with good results. Though the pitting is deep and their process of lifting very slow the recent clean up proved to be worth $3.50 per day to the hand which would pay $10 per day to the hand if they had the necessary lifts. The Briar Patch is a good mine and the ones who run it are excellent miners. It is 18 feet from the top to the bedrock, and gold all the way down. Mr. Norrell has been engaged in mining for the past 20 years, most of the time on this property and if you want a better practical miner than he is you will have to go some where else to find them.

Crown Mountain Co. have about completed their construction work enabling them to reduce expenses considerably and within the next few days will be ready to go to mining. Everything is finished up at the power plant and only two hands are now at that place—the tubes holding water most satisfactorily. About the mill the tramway, flume line, etc., are done and several hands dropped off. As frequently stated before we, together with the people generally, are anxious to see this mine started so as to show to the world that the Georgia mines will pay when economically operated by practical native miners. None others have been employed which will give the promoters an opportunity to convince any doubting ones what home labor can do with ample means to thoroughly develop and work our mines. The biggest portion of the money invested in Crown Mountain comes from the north and whenever our distant friends are satisfied that money can be made in mining here confidence will be restored and great good may be expected.

No doubt J. B. Witts recent visit to the north will result in much good to Lumpkin county, besides being beneficial to those having interests here. He met numbers of capitalists who questioned him closely about the mineral resources here, and he gave them plain unvarnished facts, thoroughly convincing them that the mines would pay if properly worked, and as those acquainted with Jim know that he has experience enough in these diggings to thoroughly understand what he is talking about and tells no falsehoods about anything. He gave them to understand that in beginning to mine if a party wished to succeed they should do like a man going to build a house. First secure the services of an architect and then get a lot of experienced mechanics to do the work so that nothing but suitable material would be used, handled as rapid and cheaply as possible so as not to take too long or cost so much that the owner would not enjoy it after taking possession.

Down at the Hand and Standard about the unusual work that has been carried on for some time is still progressing. We understand that a change will take place soon by both of these companies and a great revival of work to occur. In other words they expect to operate their mines so as to make them profitable. In this we wish them unbounded success. They have spent thousands of dollars in Dahlonega, greatly benefitting the whole country and we want them to get something in return. If the properly managed they will yet be rewarded. Mistakes have heretofore been made but sometimes costly experience turns out, best in the end, and we trust that this will be one of the times. It is said that they will put in several Hix machines on their properties—at the Hand, Findley, Barlow and probably elsewhere. The ore of the Hand, Mary Henry and Tahloneka mines all to be crushed at the Hand mill where a Hix machine of proper capacity will be used to treat the ores from these different places. At the Findley there is enough $2 ore already in sight, leaving the chute out, to run at least ten years. So say our most experienced miners, and at the Barlow plenty of good pay ore exists. The expenses of treating the concentrates by the Hix machine is only 25 cents per ton they claim, while by chlorination it costs at least $4.50 and by smelting $7 to $10 per ton. Those who have seen the Process tested say that it saves all the gold. If this be true the Consolidated and Standard Companies needn't have any fear of not making big money because they both own some of the best mines in Lumpkin county. Again we will repeat that we wish them great success in their new scheme.

A LONG PRAYER.

A Strong Prayer and a Prayer Altogether.

Not long since Mr. Mauldin, residing in Union county came over to a Dahlonega merchant and lay in a supply of goods to do him until finishing his crop, making arrangements with a certain divine here having a one horse wagon to deliver them, for which service the good man was to get a hog. The load consisted of a keg of syrup, a bed-stead, a quantity of flour and various other things generally needed by farmers, which were placed in the wagon and the journey commenced. In ascending the steepest portion of the mountain the animal backed the wagon and every thing rolled and tumbled and slid a considerable distance down the side of the mountain, fortunately lodging against some trees at the edge of a high cliff. The mule seemed to realize if it moved that it would fall off and be killed, and it lay perfectly quiet until the driver came back to where some of the Sains live for assistance. After getting the wagon up to the road piece by piece, putting it together and its contents brought up and arranged as before, the preacher said that he felt very thankful that he didn't fall with it, and asked them to kneel with him in prayer. They did so and no doubt it was the longest prayer ever offered up anywhere, either on land or water, for the man was in earnest. He prayed and prayed so long that the knee joints of his companions not accustomed to such a strain were popping like the crackling sound of the woods burning, causing them to be thankful when he ceased. So the men returned to their homes and the preacher resumed his journey safely until getting across the line into Union county, when over his wagon went again. This time he would have lost his syrup entirely had it not been that the wagon bed fell bottom upwards over the keg. Some one rendered assistance again, but no prayer was offered up this time for he had said all that could be thought of on this side of the mountain and he had no time to repeat it. Even preachers have trials and troubles same as the country editors.

The electric storm in this county Monday between sundown and dark caused much excitement. The cloud came from the north and was perfectly yellow, the only yellow cloud we ever saw after sundown. It lasted more than half an hour. The wind blew and the lightning was so bright and fast that you could see how to pick up a pin and the roaring of the thunder was continuous. The only damage that we have heard of was a portion of Mr. Autry's house being demolished in this county.

The Atlanta News has the following quotation from a country preacher's sermon, was handed in by Mr. Darwin Jones, who deposes and says that it is a good thing:

"When God created the mountains He made the tiny grain of sand. When He made a Niagara He also made the little dewdrop. When He made the huge elephant his hand formed the tiny goat, and when He made me He made a daisy."

The Southern Industrial Convention which convened at Philadelphia last week was largely attended and will result in great good. The key to the city was turned over to the Southerners who were most heartily welcomed on every hand.

Call at Matthew's drug store and get a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablet. They are an elegant physic. They also improve the appetite, strengthen the digestion and regulate the liver and bowels. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect.

A woman doctor in Chicago has rendered a bill for $100,000 for medical attendance upon Francis T. Wheeler. Mr. Wheeler is dead and he left an estate of $3,000,000 for the lawyers and doctors to squabble over.

Mr. W. S. Whodon, Cashier of the First National Bank of Winnetka, Iowa, in a recent letter gives some experience with a carpenter in his employ, that will be of value to other mechanics. He says: "I had a carpenter working for me who was obliged to stop work for several days on account of being troubled with diarrhoea. I mentioned to him that I had been similarly troubled and that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy had cured me. He bought a bottle of it from the drugstore here and informed me that one dose cured him, and he is again at work." For sale by The Matthew's drug store.

THE CROWN MOUNTAIN GOLD Mining & Milling Co.

The Crown Mountain properties are situated in the very heart of the Georgia gold belt and is in the radiating center of all the leading gold veins of the Dahlonega district. They embrace what is believed to be the mother lode of the Appalachian Range.

The prospectors of this company were the first to revive the mining interest in this district in 1896. After three years of careful and exhaustive examination of all the mines of the district of reputation as gold producers, and they had the choice of all, they selected the Crown Mountain combination as the ideal gold mine of the district which would yield or produce the most gold with the least expense. This opinion is shown by all the mining engineers, mining experts, miners and citizens of any standing in the district who are familiar with the properties. As an evidence of this we here state that more of the citizens of the town of Dahlonega and vicinity have taken stock in this company than have in all the other companies combined that have organized in this district.

The company is to be managed by practical business men—who have given much of their time to mining and mining operations, and always with unvarying success.

The present directory is for the most part composed of men who have had much experience in the mining enterprises, and under its efficient and economical management, and by reason of a visible gold supply that is practically inexhaustible, an investment in the stock of this company is undoubtedly safe.

The capitalization of the company is not commensurate with the visible productiveness of the properties and is meagre compared with the capitalization of other justly celebrated mines in the district, but the management believe it will be able to make the stock worth above par.

We invite all prospective investors to make a personal inspection of the mines. We also invite them to examine all the other mines in the district—compare the quality and quantity of the ore and the facilities for economically treating the same. We have no fears of where the choice will fall.

Until further notice of advance in prices, the stock of this company will be sold at the minimum rate of 65.00 per share. For further information apply to J. F. or J. H. Moore, Dahlonega, Ga. Dr. Donovin & McCabe, 10 & 12 West Spring Street, Columbus, Ohio, or Gen. Warner, Marietta, Ohio.

A School Boy on Corns.

Corns are of two kinds—vegetable and animal. Vegetable corn grows in rows, and animal corn grows on toes. There are several kinds of corn: There is the unicorn, the capricorn, pop corn, corn dodgers, field, corn and the corn, which is the corn your feet feel most. It is said, I believed, that gophers like corn, but persons having corns do not like to "go for" if they can help it.

Corns have kernels, and some colonels have corns. Vegetable corn grows on the ears, but animal corn on feet at the other end of the body. Another kind of corn is the acorn; this grows on oaks. The acorn is a corn with an indefinite article added. Try it and see. Many a man when he has a corn wishes it was an acorn.

Folks that have corns sometimes sends for a doctor, and if the doctor himself is corned he probably won't do so well as if he isn't. The doctor says corns are produced by tight boots and shoes, which is probably the reason why when a man is tight they say he is corned.

If a farmer manages well, he can get a good deal of corn on an acre but I know of a farmer that has the corn that makes the biggest ascher on his farm. The biggest crop of vegetable corn a man raises, the better he likes it; the bigger crop of animal corn he raises, the better he does not like it. Another kind of corn is the corn dodger. The way it is made is very simple, and it is as follows—that is if you want to know: You go a long the street and meet a man you know has a corn, and a rough character; then you step on the toe that has the corn on it and see if you don't have occasion to dodge. In that way you will find out what a corn dodger is.

A report of the commissioner of pensions recently issued shows that 43,397 names have been added to the pension roll of the United States.

You may as well expect to run a steam engine without water as to find an active, energetic man with a torpid liver and you may know that his liver is torpid when he does not relish his food or feels dull and languid after eating, often has headache and sometimes dizziness. A few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will restore his liver to its normal functions, renew his vitality, improve his digestion and make him feel like a new man. Price, 25 cents. Samples free at The Matthew's drug store.

Patronize Home Industries.

There is nothing that tends more to the building up of a town, strengthening its institutions, than a disposition of its own people to patronize their home institution.

Even if prices are not quite so low, it will pay you to do your business with your home merchants and business men. The express and freight charges of goods bought from home almost invariably offset the difference in price, and the money paid out from home is taken entirely out of circulation, and will indirectly affect your business. Keep your money in your home town. It will pass from one neighbor to another, helping every one, and thus form an endless chain that binds the community together in strength and unity.

Your home people are your friends when you really need friends. Your home merchants will extend accounts for you when a foreign institution would refuse you. Your home paper advertises to the world resources of your community and works incessantly for its upbuilding. All your home institutions help pay the taxes and support your home government.

The man who gives his patronage to home people is entitled to theirs in return, and is the citizen who is worth something to the community in which he lives.

Stick to your home people and they will stick to you.—Barnesville News.

An Indiana preacher has just been sent to the penitentiary twelve months and fined $1,000 for passing counterfeit nickles. Such a deceitful person as this ought to have his neck stretched a little.

A Sprained Ankle Quickly Cured.

"At one time I suffered from a severe sprain of the ankle," says Geo. E. Cary, editor of the Guide, Washington, Va. "After using several well recommended medicines without success, I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and am pleased to say that relief came as soon as I began its use and a complete cure speedily followed." Sold by The Matthew's drug store.

Be Truthful.

A young man was leaving his native village. He asked, as a special favor, that his sweetheart should give him her photograph.
To test him, she carefully wrapped up a piece of cardboard about the size and thickness of a cabinet photograph, and handing it to him,
said: "Keep this in remembrance of me." He supposed it was the desired picture, and afterwards wrote home to her that one of the comforts of his life was to gaze on her beloved features every night.

Why was she induced to use such means to test him? Surely she must have had doubts of his love-at all events of his honesty. Some habit of looseness in telling the truth, or in keeping his word, must have aroused her suspicions.

"If I am killed," said a young soldier to General Sheridan, just before the battle, "tell my mother that I kept my promise."

The battle was fought, the lad was killed, and his general carried the message. The promise referred to was that he would never taste liquor, and never a drop had passed his lips.

When she was told, the mother replied: "General, that is better news than if my boy had taken a city."

The boy had kept his word; had conquered himself. That is often the hardest kind of victory to win but it can be done by trusting the arm and heart of Him who delights in such battles, and who is always ready to give the victory.

Many of our boys have already started on a business career, and others are soon about to do so.

There is one thing which I know of nothing that will tell in your favor more. It is character for truth-telling and for keeping your word.

I was going to say, cut that out and paste it in your hat. But you had better have the truth of it in your heart than in your hat.

I believe a young man may be lazy, or inexact, or careless or stupid; but if he be truthful, and he is known to keep his word when once it is given, I believe that all the drawbacks I have named may be tolerated, deplorable as they are.

For, don't you see, that should he possess all the qualities which men esteem to see excellent, and yet lack a character for truthfulness and a sense of importance of keeping his word, even at a loss to himself, why, all the virtues in the calendar will be rendered of little value, for the simple reason that nobody will trust him.

He would be like a splendid looking watch, possessed of excellent wheels, finely chased, clear crystal, delicate hands—the whole planned with skill, yet the rendered useless by a defective mainspring.
Truth is the mainspring of life.

Young people be truthful. Be truthful not because it pays, but for the sake of truth. Don't lie;
don't equivocate for anybody or anything. It isn't wise always to speak—there are times when one ought not to speak; but, if you do speak, speak the truth at any cost.

Of a certain Wall street operator it need be said: "His cheek is worth a million, his word isn't worth a bean."

A thousand times over, the reverse had better be your case.

Get a reputation for lying or for tricky prevarication, and you're gone. Get it for a year, and you will stick to you for a lifetime.

You may have brains, ingenuity, application, smartness; but I want to tell you that the most valuable thing you can have to offer the world of business you enter is your sense of truth; absolute, unswerving adherence to the simple truth.

The shrewdest schemer in Wall street won't employ a man whom he knows will lie to him.

The head of a business firm once said in my hearing: "I'll do all the lying necessary, but I won't employ a liar."

Where there's no truth, or even where there's no certainty of truth
all the time, there can not be confidence and lacking confidence the whole fabric of the society—business, social and religious—will tumble in heaps.

Truth is a straight path up hill;
falsehood is a devious path through a jungle. Truth is a crystal stream, falsehood is mud. Truth is clear air; falsehood is fog.

"To thine own self be true, and it shall follow as the day the night;
thou canst not then be false to any man." (Shakespeare.)

"Lie not one to another." (Paul.)
—New York Witness.

In June the roses put on the full rob of their royalty and the grass,
the "handkerchief of the Lord," lies spread out as a carpet for the feet of sinful man. In June the southern wheat changes from flashing green to luxuriant gold; the cotton transforms the commonest fields into flower garden glorious with blooms of white and pink; the ripening peach blushes like a maiden beneath her lovers first kiss; the blackberry bush bestir hills, hedges and hollows with galaxies of blossom, and the watermelon's full, red heart gives up its delicious secret.—Henry Richards,

cated in Atlanta, is here representing an effort to secure for his house

Even praises come for the Nugget from North Carolina. Mr.
W. G. Candler in writing to us last week says: "Enclosed find $1 per. It is full of news and life.

You speak plain on all subjects."

John W. Spencer, after being in the employ of the Dahlonega Consolidated Co. as a mechanic for two years, moved back to his farm at Murrayville last Friday. John is a good industrious mechanic and earned every cent they paid him.

Roberts, who were brought back from Gainesville last week on a warrant charging them with cruelty to animals waived examination and made bond for their appearance at the next term of the Superior Court as soon they arrived.

The little still recently washed down the Chestatee river and found by W. T. Bryson is quite a curiosity. It is only two dishes sanded together costing but little and is a very small affair, but the juice which it produced could get up a big revival in the way of drunkenness and create much devilment. It's not the biggest thing that causes the most mischief
every time.

attention of those desiring choice fruit in adjoining counties. James beneficial to the proprietors but

of great good and of much importance to this entire section. The farmers can get their supply of trees without having to send mon-fruit. Had you ever thought about

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, JUNE 23, 1901.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Ed Hughes, who was sent to the chain gang two years for stealing eight dozen eggs valued at 9 cents per dozen, has been pardoned by Governor Candler.

Another policeman has been killed in Atlanta being three losing their lives in four years. E. H. DelBray was the last one who was shot by Tom Hammond, col. last week.

The matrimonial fever has struck Macon. Ten lady teachers of the public schools of that city have made up their minds to resign and take unto themselves a partner for life.

It is reported that oil has been struck in Lawrence county, N. C. It may be that oil will be found yet in some of the deep shafts that are being sunk in Lumpkin county for gold.

Governor Candler has borrowed $200,000. This will enable the school teachers to receive about 75 per cent of what is due them, after a still older claim is paid some of the counties.

A drunk cost Gus Pierce $22 and costs at Blue Ridge the other day. In Dahlonega he could have gotten drunk ten times for this amount and received a membership in the temperance society free of charge.

A new third party has been organized in Nebraska. It was reported that W. J. Bryan, the recent defeated candidate for president would head the ticket for president, but he says that it is not true. Mr. Bryan needs rest.

The latest freak of Nature is a half cow and half mare animal, owned by William Hugo, Marshall, N. J. She chews her cud the same as a cow but has natural mare's shoulders, neck, head and feet. When galloping she has the motion of a cow.

A car load of furniture has been shipped to Texas by the Situmons Furniture Co., in Habersham county. This can be done in Lumpkin county as soon as we get a railroad. We have plenty of timber and water power to accomplish this and much more.

A cloud burst in the Poconos coal regions of West Virginia on last Sunday swept everything before it, destroying about 50 lives and damaged property millions of dollars. Only one house is left where the city of Keystone stood and passengers had to be rescued from a train by taking them through windows. It is dreadful to behold.

Newman's Sunday law is quite different to Dahlonega. There no one is allowed to sell anything but drugs, medicines and ice, not even cigars and tobacco, and no shoe shines are permitted. Here you can get all the shoe shines you want and druggists are allowed to open their doors and make big money off of their soda fountains in preference to all others.

A tobacco company contributed for the comfort of the Confederate veterans during their recent reunion at Memphis, Tenn. 2,000 pounds of smoking tobacco, 10,000 pipes and 10,000 boxes of matches. The tobacco alone was worth 60 cents a pound, jobbing rates. The 2,000 pounds was divided into 16,000 rations. Another company gave the veterans 14,000 rations of chewing tobacco.

The machinists have been on a general strike for several days, being quiet everywhere however, until last Sunday at Columbus, S. C., the strikers attacked the non union men in the Southern railway shops, resulting in four members of the assaulted party being wounded. Afterwards the important workmen were tied, beat over the head with pistols and carried away. In Atlanta the strikers places are being filled by students of the Technological school of that city.

What the R. R. Co. Proposes to Do.

We clip the following from the Georgia Cracker to show what the railroad parties expect to do and how the Cracker feels on the subject:

"The company proposes to build and operate an electric railway up on the principal streets of this city, and also to Dahlonega, a distance of twenty-five miles. They have secured options upon several properties on Chattahoochee river, from which they propose to get their power. They claim to have everything in good shape to build the road, and say they mean business. They have already secured rights of way along nearly all of the proposed line and now want to get franchises here preparatory to beginning active work. They propose to have car lines over the principal streets of the city and beyond the city limits to the Pacolet and Gainesville cotton mills. Eventually they propose building a line to the Chattahoochee river on Green street and making a resort there. This, however, is in the future, and will be determined after the road in the city is built and in operation. The people here hope to see a street railway system in operation before a great while, and they believe such an enterprise is certain to come in the near future."

Why Go to Oklahoma?

As a number of persons in Lumpkin county are anticipating going to Oklahoma we clip the following from the Macon Telegraph so as to give them some light on the subject:

"Twenty thousand men, women and children massed on the border awaiting the opening of the Kiowa-Apache Comanche reservation to settlement. A gentleman who has been there says this about them:

"Only a small percentage have even tents to sleep in but huddle under wagons and trees. At least 5,000 of them have been there a year and a half. They went with possibly $200 or $300, and have made nothing since they arrived. Simply waiting—waiting."

There are hundreds of desperadoes on the border, who have picked out claims and will not scruple to kill the successful ones in the drawing, in case they have a lottery."

It seems incredible that people will go through such hardships to get land in a comparatively wild country when here in Georgia there are thousands of acres of fine land, close to the advantages of civilization which can be had for little if any more than the cost of the Oklahoma lands."

Veterans, Take Notice.

HEADQUARTERS "CAMP MARTIN," June 26, 1901.

All members of the above Camp, Confederate Veteran's Association and any other ex-Confederate soldiers who may wish to become members, will meet at the court house in Dahlonega on Thursday, the 4th day of July next, at 10 o'clock a. m. All sons of veterans are especially requested to meet with us on the above date.

By order of

JOSEPH ALLEN, Commander.

J. B. BROWN, Adjutant.

Lightning has caused considerable damage at different places this week. Monday night near Gainesville a stable and a horse were burned, near Toccoa City, a shock of wheat containing one hundred bushels, was destroyed, in Chicago a fine college was reduced to ashes. All caused by lightning. Three or four houses were struck in Atlanta.

During a recent storm in Hall county a house being erected in Gainesville was blown down, the Southern depot was set on fire by lightning, Keith's bridge was struck by lightning, also Hopewell church at Candler.

The smallest sized fry chickens bring a big price in Dahlonega.

Miss Amanda Davis, one of the oldest residents of Lumpkin county, died at her home out in the country last Wednesday afternoon aged 70, being the last one of the old family. Miss Davis was a good, kind hearted lady and her presence will be greatly missed in that community.

We understand that one of the bosses down at the Standard has drawn a picture on a plank or box having a long tail and a serpents head, under which is written, "The Country Editor." Let some one draw by the side of it the picture of a jackass with a cigar in its mouth and a novel at the other end and it will be a fair representation of this object that is put there in charge of a lot of men pretending to show them how to mine.

The revenue officials succeeded in destroying two illicit distilleries in the eastern portion of the county in one day last week. It is said that this is what caused so much trouble with some of the churches out in that section, resulting in a delay in the progress of certain work in them on account of many of the members sipping at the glass too often. Probably some of them were under the impression that there is a time for all things according to the Bible, and had selected this year for drinking while the liquor was so convenient and cheap.

Several years ago out at the Bessemer Springs could be seen a suitable place for people to sit and rest and drink water beneath the beautiful forest trees, occasionally the young folks would enjoy themselves dancing by the music of a string band. This has all changed now. The property belongs to the Crown Mountain Co. The spring is there yet but the water is used by laborers instead of pleasure seekers, and a machine shop takes the place of the other building which in a few more days will furnish different music to that made by a band and something that will be much more profitable than dancing or fiddling either one.

Bishop W. A. Candler at the Atlanta district conference told them that he did not like the "new fangled music they had in churches," adding that they need not have any of it when he was present.

Judge Murray is here with us again talking about the railroad and mines, which is a very interesting conversation, for he says and believes that there is a bright future for Dahlonega.

Two boys raised a row on the steps of the Baptist church last Sunday night during services and when they were discovered one had a rock drawn up the other. It is a real nice place to have a fight.

Those expecting to make application for a state pension will find something of importance in this issue to them on the fourth page. Read it and govern yourselves accordingly otherwise you will be left.

We understand that Capt. Cusick, who was recently appointed to take charge of the military department of the college, has an idea of purchasing property in Dahlonega and moving his family here. We hope that is true and that he will become a permanent citizen of the Golden City.

Doubtless before this reaches the eyes of many of the public school teachers a portion of the amount due them by the state for services already rendered, will be in the hands of the county school commissioners. The amount for this county is $903.03. The remainder will not be paid until taxes are collected this fall.

The coolest occupation followed by any one in the mountains at this season of the year is the blockader who locates on some small stream for the purpose of manufacturing a little distilled moonshine. But some one comes along hungry for money enough to report him to the revenue officers and he is disturbed in this business and carried to a hot prison.

Not long since a woman was seen out in the rain cutting wood while her husband sat in the house playing the fiddle. This proves that a girl should not get in a hurry to marry. When they do they most always come to grief. Such a husband as this is not worth the powder and lead that it would take to kill him, but still a woman learns to love most anything and if a man of this kind was killed on a railroad the woman would ask for several thousand dollars damage and it would have to be paid when really such are not worth more than two for a nickel.

The corn crop of this section is looking very promising.

Hereafter you must not say "poor farm," when speaking of the one belonging to the county, because Samuel Head, who has charge of it measured a stalk of corn which in two weeks grew two feet—three inches a day.

Mrs. Frank Meaders, while taking a horse back ride early yesterday morning and when discovering that it was a race horse jumped striking on her side and shoulder, giving a considerable jolt which will likely cause her to be sore for several days.

During the past week we have had capitalists from Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Ohio, looking over the gold fields in this section all of whom were so well pleased with the outlook that they interested themselves by making an investment. Let others come and make a personal inspection. There is room enough for all.

The board of trustees have decided to change the color of the uniforms of the cadets and hereafter those who attend the N. G. A. College will have to wear blue. This change will cost those already having gray uniforms useless extra money. Why the change was made we cannot see for it can't possibly benefit the college or any one else except some clothing house carrying this kind of goods.

Those who deserted during the war need not expect to draw a pension from the state, nevertheless it is said that some are applying. Already there are men drawing pensions in this county not entitled and at the same time a number of old soldiers who fought bravely in the front, entitled and needing the money that can't get a cent. They could secure some of the expert witnesses maybe to help them out but are too honest to make the effort.

L. H. Helton and his wife separated again this week. This time by mutual agreement. The first time was 22 years ago. After remaining away from her husband 21 years Mrs. Helton wrote to him, asking if he would live with her if she would come. His reply was that he would, and she came.

They met here although for the first time in 21 years there was no hugging or kissing or slobbering over each other, not even a hand shake or any kind of a smile. He carried her to a furnished house he had prepared for them and they got along all right for months until Mrs. Helton became dissatisfied and on Wednesday last she moved back to her old home in Gordon county. Both are growing old now and no doubt this will be the last time they will see each other until they meet together on the other shore.

It is real amusing to see a negro after working in the corn field or doing other labor in the hot sun shine all the week carrying an umbrella over them on Sunday.

You don't hear of any one going across the Blue Ridge to "fish for mountain trout" now. The corn is about all used up and the blockaders can't manufacture anything to bait fishermen with.

Messrs. J. W. Adams and F. G. Thomson, who have mining interests here, left for their homes last Friday. They are also interested in the Hix process and expect to introduce it here they say but we understand that nothing will be done in this direction for some sixty days yet.

A certain gentleman was telling us the other day how a drink of chemical liquor down in Dawson county served him. He said soon after taking a small drink of the stuff two pains, one at each ear, began and started towards his forehead and when they collided the report was like that of a pistol and he felt sure that his head was cracked.

It is reported that a certain citizen of Dahlonega remarked that he would give $25 to have Sam Jones come and preach one sermon in Dahlonega. Give your waste money to some poor person that needs meat and bread. Such an act of kindness as this would be smiled upon by the Lord, when if it was given to Sam we believe it would cause a frown.

It is very unfortunate for a white person to get in as bad a fix as Huldy Higgins. When not going from place to place begging for herself and child she is sheltered under the same roof with some negroes between here and the Hand mill, and every time she hears a white coming runs off bareheaded to the woods thinking it may be the marshal. Here is a subject nearer home for the foreign mission board to look after.

The junior ram rod of the Signal is always criticizing the Nugget in some manner simply because it hurts him to know that it is read by twice as many people as the Signal. We can't expect any thing else from a bullet headed fellow like the one in charge of the Signal who is so light that if the false bottom was removed from his pants the wind would carry him up and away and he would squeal like a little toy balloon.

A letter received from Mrs. W. H. Cook, of Montana, who left Dahlonega a few years ago, says that they are still having cold weather in that country—snowing the 13th inst. Mrs. Cook, says that she feels thankful to Lieut. Fred Price for being the means of her finding the whereabouts of her son. Her son, Will Cook left Dahlonega while a boy many years ago and went west and after awhile his parents could hear nothing of him, causing them to believe that he was dead. A few months ago Lieut. Price wrote relatives in Dahlonega that he saw him in Montana. The Nugget published it and Cooks parents read it with great pleasure.

We notice that parties by permission are killing the "destructive" bullbats over in the drill field. Just as well wipe out the shooting ordinance for these bats are perfectly harmless.

We suppose that we were mistaken in saying that Clyde Meaders had a notion of wedding. He failed to take the house that he bid off and Mr. Jarrard, the owner, is going to finish the building up and rent it out.

John Abercrombia and J. N. Freedland, of this county, were found operating an illicit distillery and brought in and bound over by Com. Baker Saturday night. When the officers stepped in one of the boys was asleep doubtless dreaming of the big profit he was going to realize when, he was awoken to see the entire plant destroyed.

Every parent should see that their children carry no sling shots at home or any where else as far as they can prevent it. Frequently the windows of unoccupied houses are used as targets by little boys carrying them and occasionally buildings occupied are shot at, sometimes breaking at the lights. This is very dangerous and should be stopped before some one loses an eye.

Jasper Satterfield was in town the other day exhibiting some fifty cent pieces bearing date of 1836 which had recently been unearthed out in this neighborhood. He had three and his son two, all looking perfectly bright. It was said that a Miss Davis "hid some money years ago. It was removed one night some time afterwards and it may be that she didn't get it all and this might be part of it. Miss Davis is dead and there is no one left that knows.

If parents would do like Mrs. Jim Adams did the other day when Marshal Harrison informed her that her little boy had been throwing rocks at a negro it would do a great deal more good than having a council trial. She gave him a severe whipping. In this manner she kept her husband from paying out any money and brought the rock throwing to an end. On the other hand where a boys parents believe his word to that of any body else it encourages a lad and he will advance farther and farther until he enters the doors of the superior court and sometimes on to the chain gang.

Though the number that joined the Baptist church more than a month ago was small all have not been emersed yet. There has been two different baptizings, when the last one will take place we do not know. We are glad to be able to say, however, that the conduct by the spectators last Sunday was much better than it was on the first occasion, the minister in the beginning requesting them all to behave themselves. It is too bad that people will misbehave themselves on a gathering of this kind which should be solemn so as not to disturb the minister and other good people present. We never heard of anything of the kind before. If a halt is not brought to it by the grand jury it looks like baptizings will have to be conducted privately like Georgia hangings.

The Gainesville and Dahlonega Electric Railway seems to be a certainty. Ample water power has been secured, about all the rights of ways have been obtained and the city of Gainesville has granted the company all the privileges asked for. The second grading of the route is completed and within a short period work will begin on the power plant which in the near future will connect the city of Gainesville and Dahlonega by rail. It is a pleasure for us to be able to announce that the citizens of that city have got the consent of their minds to join the people of Dahlonega in this much needed enterprise. It is not Dahlonegas road, neither is it Gainesvilles, but one that belongs to the people which will develop this whole country, backed by the power of energy and vim to push it to an early completion so that this great good can be accomplished.

Mining Notes

The steam whistle heard every day at the Ashly boat establishes the fact that they are running on full time making money, otherwise work would suspend and they would not be preparing to construct another boat of larger size and bigger capacity.

Down at the Standard, known as the Tahleokka property, Tom Ray in his development work has opened up several splendid gold bearing veins, one of them averaging about four feet which Mr. Raysays is worth at the least calculation $8 per ton.

At the Thompson mine in White county, operated by Mr. Launabre and others, under the management of Mr. Barret, who used to be in Dahlonega, they are meeting with splendid success. We were informed by a gentleman from there last week that they had a good vein opened up for five hundred feet and are now engaged in sinking four different shafts.

We were shown by S. D. Grindle last Saturday some ore which was taken from his vein a few miles above Dahlonega in Crumby's district convincing us at at once that the gentleman possesses a valuable gold mine. It showed quite a lot of gold, some pieces being as long as grains of wheat though not quite so heavy. All he needs is plenty of water and a small stamp mill.

We notice that a special meet of the Consolidated Co. is called to convene on July 5th, at Dahlonega, for the purpose of authorizing the issuing of bonds of said company not to exceed $75,000 to be secured by mortgage or deed of trust on property of the company, and for the purpose of authorizing the sale of said bonds to provide funds for the liquidation of all floating indebtedness of the company and for the development of the property of the company.

The long flume line which is to convey the ore from Crown Mountain proper to their mill below on Tan Yard Branch can be plainly seen from the Nugget office and when the button is touched and the water forced on this mountain operation will commence on one of the best mines in Georgia, which will be conducted in an economical business like manner so as to make it profitable and interesting to its owners. Every one knowing the property are aware of this fact and strangers who visit the place and observe the mill and learn of the cheap manner in which the ore is to be handled are at once convinced that Crown Mountain will be worked upon business principles.

Mr. Packard, of Turkey Hill, spent a short while in Dahlonega last Saturday. The gentleman has already made some valuable discoveries which pay a very satisfactory profit, but he is like all other miners owning mineral property here, when told that there is something better, wants to find it. Turkey Hill, as those acquainted with it know, is no second class gold mine. It was on this property where an old negro man, named Cato, belonging to Wm. Lawrence, made enough gold in three weeks to secure his freedom. The vein was worth 50 pennysworth to the pan and the old negro took out 800 pennysworth in the time mentioned above. It was called the "Billy Lawrence vein." Both the former owner and the old negro man have long since passed away and the vein lost years ago which has never been found since as the breaking out of the civil war frustrated all kinds of industries, causing mining to not only cease there but every where else, and those aware of the location of this rich vein then have died leaving no one to even point out the place which brought joy and happiness to this negro man in the long years ago. At this time the present owner, Mr. Packard, is at work at a point where he has already found a number of specimens causing him to think that he is near this vein or some other that is very good.

We had the pleasure of meeting C. M. Merrick, of Pennsylvania, this week a while before he left for his home, who had spent several days in company with W. F. Huntley, of Illinois, and R. L. McCable, of Ohio, looking at the mines. Mr. Merrick is President of the Taos Gold Mining and Milling Co., in New Mexico and Mr. Huntley is its treasurer. Mr. Merrick is also connected with the works of Pennsylvania which turn out tons of horse shoe nails daily, supplying the whole country with this important product. They remained some five days and made a careful survey of the Crown Mountain property, mines and plant, also the plant of the Consolidated Co. Mr. Merricks practical knowledge of business enables him to see quickly when things is conducted properly or not. What he said about the latter plant is useless to repeat, but will tell his opinion of Crown Mountain as expressed to us. He said that he started out with Gen. Warner, President of the Company, and went from the mountain on down to the plant, examining the many veins and other things connected with the mines very carefully, the General telling him at the start that everything was open for his criticism. After reaching the plant and examining the 50 stamp mill nearing completion and the two Huntington mills about ready to run, this is what he said: "General, the only criticism I have to make is this, the Huntington mills are not large enough in number to handle the goods that will be delivered to them." The gentleman said that he did not see where any money had been spent foolishly, the plant was a splendid one and in his opinion when the mill started it would open the eyes of the people here. The opinion he expressed is not all. The gentleman backed up his judgment by taking a large block of stock. So did his friend, Mr. Huntley. It is very gratifying to have such men as these who have confidence in our mines and operators enough to leave large sums of money in their hands to be used at their command for the development of our vast mineral resources.

Mr. Albright, of Blue Ridge, has been here for several days exhibiting his turtle shell gold saving machine. He is president of the proposed Missing Link Railroad, which will run from Chattanooga via Blue Ridge on through a number of mountain counties now destitute of any railroad facilities. This is a splendid route and will be of great benefit in the development of the entire country through which it passes. He says that it is certain to be built.

The case of the state vs. Pearson Edmonson, Oscar Roberts and Clyde Loveless, charged with cruelty to animals—horses dying belonging to Anderson & Jones—will be watched with interest, as we understand that Clyde Loveless, who had nothing to do with the horse, and paid Roberts a dollar to carry him to Murrayville, is included in the warrant. If passengers are to be held responsible in this manner they will be afraid to travel in any conveyance pulled by a horse.

Dahlonega was visited by another heavy rain storm last Tuesday afternoon which was accompanied by much electricity. The lightning played about on the telephone wires and slightly shocked several persons in the city. A large tree was struck in the lot of M. F. Wheelchel, which killed a chicken at the root of the tree, its feathers being scorched to a crisp. A line of pipe on Crown Mountain was struck, knocking the "water boy" and two cows down, all recovering sufficiently within a few seconds to make a quick run away from there. All telephone communications were cut off. Col. Farrows line from Porter to Dahlonega was considerably damaged. The wire was burnt in two in several places and twenty-five posts or more were struck.

The sanitary condition of Dahlonega is in splendid condition and much benefit has been derived from it in the way of good health. This time last year the town was full of fever and if it is a single case now within the corporate limits we are not aware of it and the city fathers must be congratulated in their efforts of restoring good health to the city.

The worst victim of hard luck we have heard of lately is a young man who for five years gave part of his earnings to his fiancée to save until they were married. A burglar stole the earnings, and then the girl ran off with another man.—Ex.

Mr. W. S. Whelan, Cashier of the First National Bank of Westmoreland, Iowa, in a recent letter gives some experience with a carpenter in his employ, that will be of value to other mechanics. He says: "I had a carpenter working for me who was obliged to stop work for several days on account of being troubled with diarrhoea. I mentioned to him that I had been similarly troubled, and that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy had cured me. He bought a bottle of it from the drugstore and informed me that one dose cured him, and he is again at work." For sale by The Matthew's drug store.

THE CROWN MOUNTAIN GOLD Mining & Milling Co.

The Crown Mountain properties are situated in the very heart of the Georgia gold belt and is in the radiating center of all the long gold veins of the Dahlonega district. They embrace what is believed to be the mother lode of the Appalachian Range.

The extensive and rich ore bodies in sight upon these properties assure long continued mining operations and the indisputable guarantee of the permanent and increasing value of the stock of "The Crown Mountain Co."

The projectors of this company were the first to revive the mining interest in this district in 1890. After three years of careful and exhaustive examination of all the mines of the district of reputation as gold producers, and they had the choice of all, they selected the Crown Mountain combination as the ideal gold mine of the district which would yield or produce the most gold with the least expense. This opinion is shown by all the mining engineers, mining experts, miners and citizens of any standing in the district who are familiar with the properties. As an evidence of this we here state that more of the citizens of the town of Dahlonega and vicinity have taken stock in this company than in all the other companies combined that have organized in this district.

The present directors are for the most part composed of men who have had much experience in the mining enterprises, and under their efficient and economical management, and by reason of a visible gold supply that is practically inexhaustible, an investment in the stock of this company is undoubtedly safe. The capitalization of the company is not commensurate with the visible productiveness of the properties and is meagre compared with the capitalization of other lustily celebrated mines in the district, but the management believe it will be able to make the stock worth above par.

We invite all prospective investors to make a personal inspection of the mines. We also invite them to examine all the other mines in the district—compare the quality and quantity of the ore and the facilities for economically treating the same. We have no fears of where the choice will fall.

Until further notice of advance in prices, the stock of this company will be sold at the minimum rate of 65.00 per share. For further information apply to J. F. or J. H. Moore, Dahlonega, Ga., or Donovin & McCabe, 10 & 12 West Spring Street, Columbus, Ohio, or Gen. Warner, Marietta, Ohio.

The South's Resources.

The resources of the south are so varied and abundant that the possibilities of this section are almost beyond conjecture. Its soil, its climate, its treasure of coal and iron, its oil fields, its gold mines and zinc fields, its millions of acres of timber, its unlimited sources of water power conspire to make it the grandest section on the globe. There is only one thing lacking to make these possibilities a reality. This is proper development of the resources that lie all around us.

The southern industrial convention in Philadelphia this week will have the effect of starting a solid and substantial movement toward this development. The delegates to that convention, who are among the most prominent and influential men of the south, have been telling the capitalists of north and east of the south's great undeveloped wealth, and their words will be as seed sown in good ground—they will bear good fruit. President Hargrove, of the association, made an unusually strong presentation of the situation. He said among other things: "Send your agents of commerce among us. You have money. Send it down and weld a link between the north and south which cannot be broken. Build manufacturing plants. Put your newspaper men in the field and let them tell the people of the north of the great advantages offered by the southern states." Colonel W. A. Humphill, of this state, also made a forcible address. He said if he had to write one word over the south that word would be "Undeveloped." Many other addresses were made, all tending to show the vast and varied resources of the south, which need only to be developed to place this section in the front rank of the countries of the world. "Development" is the south's greatest need. She has resources beyond compare.—Columbus Sun.
